

Full North Viet Bomb Halt Rumored

SAIGON (AP) — The United States has proposed a full halt in the bombing of North Vietnam and is now discussing the proposal with the Saigon government, a senior South Vietnamese political official said today.

The source, who declined to be quoted by name, said President Nguyen Van Thieu had told the top members of his regime the Communists must guarantee they will not escalate the war if a bombing halt is called.

Thieu also said any decision to halt the bombing must be agreed to by the South Vietnamese government, the source said.

"We'll know within the next 24 hours," the official added.

Thieu and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker held three meetings today, the first—at Busker's request—at 6:45 a.m. Separate sessions involving the Cabinet and top political figures in the government and the legislature also were held at the presidential palace.

The meetings set off a wave of reports and rumors that an important development was in the works, but there was no official announcement.

A spokesman for the U.S. Mission said: "The reports are purely speculative and the mission has no comment on them."

The developments also came amid another of the periodic lulls in the ground war, a lull which top U.S. officers in Saigon do not think means the Communist command is de-escalating. But they admit they "can't get the enemy to stick around and fight."

The U.S. Command's communications did not report a single significant ground action between U.S. and Communist troops. South Vietnamese headquarters reported three clashes Tuesday and early Wednesday in which a total of 50 Viet Cong or North Vietnamese troops were killed.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces found two more enemy base camps Tuesday that yielded munitions stockpiles.

American infantrymen of the 1st Division, operating 25 miles northeast of Saigon, found 130 weapons, including three sniper rifles with telescopic sights, two light machine guns, a 57mm recoilless rifle, twenty 60mm mortar shells and 1,000 rounds of small arms ammunition.

In the Mekong Delta 63 miles southwest of Saigon, South Vietnamese militiamen seized three machine guns of East German manufacture, two light machine guns, 32 individual weapons and assorted ammunition and equipment.

The militiamen also killed two guards, captured two and freed two civilians being held prisoner. A spokesman said the Mekong Delta camp contained three jails, an aid station, an office, four arms shops and 20 trenches.

The U.S. Command announced today that Marine artillery accidentally fired eight 155mm shells into a supposedly empty village Tuesday, killing 10 South Vietnamese and wounding 23.

Tropical Storm Gladys Rakes Isle Of Pines

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fidel Castro's "island of youth" was pounded today by the strongest winds in tropical storm Gladys as the 60 mile per hour gales gained strength and moved toward parts of Florida already on hurricane watch.

The Isle of Pines, a colony of the young 50 miles south of Cuba, has about 50,000 residents.

The Cuban government suspended flights from Havana to the island as intensity of the storm neared the 74 m.p.h. level of a full hurricane. Forecasters said Gladys might reach hurricane strength even as it passed over the Cuban mountains, a passage usually counted on to break the back of hurricanes.

Even as heavy rains pounded the Isle of Pines, evacuation to higher ground began for thousands of people and cattle in Pinar del Rio and Havana provinces in western Cuba.

Elementary and high school classes in both provinces were canceled for the day. Protective measures were taken for crops and tobacco warehouses as the provinces were placed on alert, Havana Radio said in broadcasts monitored in Miami.

The daily two-plane refugee airlift from Varadero, Cuba, to Miami also was suspended today because of the storm.

Slowdown In Economy Under Way?

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the government's principal economic signals, the gross national product, has flashed another SOS about inflation. But the top White House economist says a welcome slowdown already has begun.

The Commerce Department estimated Tuesday the GNP—market value of all of the nation's goods and services—rose in the third quarter by nearly $18 billion, to an adjusted annual rate of $870.8 billion.

It was the fifth consecutive quarter of major increases—bad news when demand exceeds supply and pushes prices up.

The third quarter performance was the equivalent of an annual growth rate of 4.8 percent. Government economists commonly describe anything above 4 percent as inflationary.

While he acknowledged that the GNP had taken a "large" step up, Arthur M. Okun, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, noted the total increase was less than the $21.7 billion rise posted in the second quarter.

Wallace Wins Spot On Ohio Ballot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A former Alabama governor took the spotlight away from traditional party politics in Ohio today.

George C. Wallace has won a place on Ohio's Nov. 5 ballot, and for the first time in more than a generation Ohioans will be offered a recognized third party presidential candidate.

The U.S. Supreme Court Tuesday ordered that the American Independent Party candidate's name be printed on Ohio's presidential ballot. In doing so, the high court said no state may impose "burdensome" regulations on minor parties without compelling reasons.

State election officials had rejected Wallace's candidacy, stating petitions circulated in his behalf had not been filed within the legal time limit.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, who was ordered by the Supreme Court last month to temporarily place Wallace's name on the ballot, said Tuesday's ruling would make election work much easier since Wallace's name won't have to be blacked out.

Workers in Wallace's state headquarters in Columbus were jubilant over the news. Sage Lyons, head of the Ohio Wallace campaign, pledged:

"We will carry forward with the purpose of our campaign, and that is to carry the state of Ohio."

Meanwhile, the deadline for filing lists of presidential electors passed, leaving Ohio voters with a choice of nine candidates for president—the three printed on the ballot and six write-in candidates of minor parties.

Elsewhere in Ohio politics, the U.S. Senate race continued embroiled in a dispute over the role of the attorney general.

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, the Republican nominee, picked up two supporters in his efforts to refute claims by his Democratic opponent that he is the state's "chief law enforcement officer."

Republican U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr., appearing with Saxbe in southwestern Ohio, accused Democratic candidate, John J. Gilligan of misrepresenting Saxbe. "He doesn't have the duty of law enforcement in Ohio," Taft said.

And Robert E. Boyd Jr., the state's first assistant attorney general, said the attorney general's chief responsibility is that of chief legal adviser. Under Ohio law, he said, the attorney general "has no authority to prosecute any person or violations of general criminal laws."

Gilligan presented to newsmen Tuesday a "memorandum" prepared by a staff of Columbus lawyers who are specialists in Ohio constitutional law. Gilligan said the memorandum backed up his statement that the attorney general is the chief law officer of the state.

Former State School Chief Dies In Crash

MCCONNELSVILLE, OHIO (AP)—Merle Eymann, state superintendent of public instruction from 1954 to 1957, died Tuesday in a two-car head-on wreck 10 miles south of here. His wife and the driver of the second car also were killed.

Eymann, who retired in 1957, was 74. His wife, Edith, was 68. The couple lived in Lancaster. The third accident victim was Harry Massie, Route 3, McConnelville.

Before becoming state superintendent, Eymann had been an assistant superintendent in the Ohio Department of Education.

Morgan County Sheriff Don L. Bailey said Massie's car went over the center line on Ohio 60 and collided with the Eymann's car head-on.

Revenue From Tax Estimated At $35,000

City Council Enacts $5 Auto License Tax

Circleville City Council passed the $5 permissive auto license tax Tuesday by a 5-2 vote following the third reading of the proposed ordinance.

The two dissenting votes were cast by Noble Barr, councilman at large, and Boyd Horn, the city's fourth ward councilman.

Barr, who told his fellow councilmen that he favored a $5 auto license tax, objected to wording in the ordinance which would allow funds to be spent on street signs and railroad crossing signals.

Horn voted against the ordinance because he felt it should be placed on the May primary ballot for vote by the people. "We should give everybody a chance to say if they wanted the tax," Councilman Horn stated.

The ordinance however, was passed over their objections with Keith Wagner moving for the adoption of the legislation and David Goldschmidt seconding the motion. Councilman John Jenkins, Harold Clifton and David Crawford joined with Wagner and Goldschmidt in voting for the passage of the ordinance.

Crawford pointed out that there had been about $43,000 in the street improvement fund at the beginning of the year. He told council that much of this would be spent by the end of the year and council would need the additional revenue.

Anticipated revenue is $35,000. All residents of the city must pay the tax no matter where they buy their license tags. Persons who live outside the city, even though they work here and buy their license plates here will not have to pay the new tax.

City Council also took formal action Tuesday to join with the Pickaway County Refuse Disposal District. An ordinance to do so was passed unanimously after the first reading.

Held to a first reading was a law authorizing the mayor to declare a state of emergency during periods of disaster or civil disturbance.

It was prepared by Mayor Richard Gerhardt. The mayor told council that floods this spring showed there was a need for the legislation.

THE ordinance was held to a first reading. The legislation would give the mayor the power to delineate boundaries of any threatened area and restrict the movement of persons into or from the areas. It also would give him the power to establish a curfew, prohibit the sale of firearms and ammunition, prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages.

Councilmen Crawford and Goldschmidt both stated they felt the ordinance as written would place too much authority in one person. Goldschmidt said that council should be the body to declare a state of emergency, while Crawford suggested the law be rewritten to include the president of council and perhaps another person.

An ordinance to place the building inspector under the direction of the director of public safety was passed after a first reading with only one dissenting vote. Horn was opposed to the move.

Three appropriation measures were approved by council.

The solons transferred $25 from the general fund to the street repair fund to be used

Atomic 'Scare' Tactic Studied

NATO Nations Given Outline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has given NATO allies a detailed outline of how demonstration-type nuclear bursts could be used to show an invading enemy the West is not afraid to resort to such weapons.

The American document was carried to Europe last week by Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford.

It assumes added interest due to the Soviets' August invasion of Czechoslovakia although it was prepared before then.

The defense chief submitted the paper to the seven-nation meeting of NATO's nuclear planning group.

Conclusions of the study are secret. But in candid conversations with newsmen, U.S. officials suggested one or two well-placed nuclear detonations could be considered in the early phase of a massive, uncontrolled assault by enemy forces over NATO borders.

The idea would be, as one official explained it, to show an enemy "that you were prepared to use nuclear weapons to deter him."

The study also sets forth disadvantages to such a move, among them the possibility that even limited nuclear shots might carry both sides into a devastating major atomic exchange.

U.S. officials discussed the possible use of nuclear weapons, particularly the demonstration-type shots, far more openly than at any time in recent years—perhaps to emphasize American backing of the alliance at this time of tension in Europe.

Clifford made one statement after another in his swing through Western Europe, reaffirming U.S. support of NATO and saying the United States "would take whatever action was necessary" to repel any attack.

Newsday Backs Nixon; Moyers Likes Humphrey

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) —Newsday, a Long Island newspaper endorsed Richard M. Nixon for president today, but its publisher, former presidential aide Bill D. Moyers, supported Hubert H. Humphrey in a separate statement.

Newsday, politically independent, endorsed Democrat's Lyndon B. Johnson in 1964 and John F. Kennedy in 1960. The newspaper's editor and publisher in 1960 was the late Alicia Patterson. Her husband, Harry F. Guggenheim, then Newsday president, endorsed Nixon in a separate column.

Guggenheim, now president and editor in chief, signed today's editorial, which said Nixon can most effectively lead the country and achieve the greatest unity.

Two Parades Highlight Opening Day

Unseasonably warm weather was a contributing factor today in making the opening day of the Pumpkin Show one of the best attended in the 62 years of the festival history.

The weatherman made no promises, but he did say as far as his scientific equipment could tell there would be no rain at least for today.

A 20 per cent chance of showers has been predicted for Thursday, but again — no promises. The five-day forecast calls for temperatures to average above normal with a high in the upper 60s to mid 70s. Overnight lows will range from the mid 40s to the low 50s. In case you're interested, the record high for Oct. 15, in Pickaway County was 90 degrees in 1897. To counteract this, the record low was 24 degrees in 1939.

Hundreds of anxious show visitors were in town before noon today awaiting the 2 p.m. opening. First item on the program was the playing of the Foreman Chimes in the courthouse tower. Valerie Valentine played several selections on the historic chimes prior to an official opening ceremony.

McCarthy Firm On Vietnam War

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says he has "no intention to compromise in the days ahead" on his Vietnam position.

McCarthy is making a four-day swing of California to raise funds and back candidates who supported his presidential bid.

3rd Orbital TV Show Illustrates Eating, Cleaning

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — Bearded, rested and feeling better, the Apollo 7 astronauts presented a televised lesson in space age cooking and plumbing on the Wally, Walt and Donn show today and then sped on toward the halfway point of their marathon space mission.

As they swept into their sixth day in orbit, their space chariot was performing so well that plans were being formed to send three men around the moon Christmas Day.

For the third straight morning, the tediousness of the flight was broken by the daily television. The TV show was shortened from 11 minutes to nine minutes today because of initial reception trouble at a receiving station at Corpus Christi, Tex.

The show began as usual with Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. holding up the usual introductory sign: "Hello from the Lovely Apollo Room High Atop Everything."

Then, in contrast to the hijinks of previous days, the astronauts were more businesslike as they demonstrated some of the things they do in space.

Civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham showed how the astronauts prepare their food as he took a plastic container of breakfast fruit juice and injected cold water in it through a nozzle.

Narrator Schirra said that the rehydratable food could be made palatable with either hot or cold water. Apollo 7 meals have been the first hot meals in space.

As the food bag floated freely off Cunningham's fingertips, Schirra said: "You can see in the center an interesting formation of bubbles."

The bubbles, caused by weightlessness, were not actually visible to viewers.

Then Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele took over the camera and pointed it at a puddle of water in the lower bay of the cabin.

Schirra said the water is caused by condensation from some of the cold tubing in the life support system but that the exact source was not known.

Demonstrating how they cope with the plumbing problem, Eisele took a small vacuum cleaner-like device and Schirra described:

"Now he's going to suck up the water with the accumulator line we have. It's a pretty good size blob of water. It takes quite a while to mop up."

He explained that the water is then spilled overboard through a water dump system.

Following the mop-up operation, the camera was panned around the cabin showing such things as the hand controllers and display panels.

The only levity in the conversation, in contrast to earlier days, was this comment from Schirra, emulating an airline pilot:

"This is your captain speaking. On this flight you can unfasten your seat belts and relax and I hope we can make this flight enjoyable for you."

Mission Control told the astronauts that the reception was good but not up to the quality of the previous two mornings.

Among the observers in the control center were Cunningham's wife, Lo Ella, and his brother, William.

Trouble with the converter equipment at the Corpus Christi receiving station threatened to cut several minutes off the telecast, but the trouble was corrected just minutes before Apollo 7 appeared overhead.

The show flashed on only two minutes late.

Had the trouble persisted, viewers would have seen only half the show as received at the station at Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Apollo 7 was headed for the midway mark of its planned 11-day journey tonight. No major highlights are planned in the last half of the mission as the astronauts continue the routine job of checking and re-checking the systems.

They all slept well Tuesday night, each averaging about eight hours. This contrasted with the previous night when Schirra complained that they were awakened too early.

All three reported their colds were much better and that they had stopped taking medication, including aspirin.

The halfway mark of the planned 11-day mission comes tonight.

Mrs. Olive L. Plum, 82, of Ashville died 8 p.m. Tuesday in Berger Hospital.

Born May 15, 1886 in Pickaway County, she was the daughter of George and Mary Bownocker Runkle.

She was a member of Hedges Chapel United Methodist Church and a 58-year member of Nebraska Grange.

She is survived by her husband, A. Ray Plum; daughter, Mrs. Chester Noecker, Route 1, Ashville; two grandchildren, Mrs. Neil Sperry and C. Ray Noecker; two nieces. A brother, Roland R. Runkle preceded her in death.

Services will be 2 p.m. Friday at the Bastian Funeral Home, Ashville, with Rev. William Sherertz officiating. Burial will be in Reber Hill Cemetery.

Judge Weds Couple

Richard C. Siegel, Columbus and Roquelan Poole, Columbus, were married in Circleville Municipal Court by Judge Sterling Lamb.

Two Parades

during the ceremony was Mayor Richard L. Gerhardt. The Rev. David Allardye gave the invocation followed by a concert by the Amanda-Clearcreek Band.

City schools were dismissed this afternoon until Monday for the Pumpkin Show.

Ted Lewis, Circleville's famous impresario, was expected to arrive sometime today or tomorrow for his annual visit.

First of the show's seven extravaganzas, the Little Miss Pumpkin Show Parade, got underway at 3 p.m.

The weatherman posed no threat this year to judging of the many contestants. A new enclosed stage, located on W. Main St., was put into operation today. The new addition, built by show directors, is lighted, has a curtain and dressing rooms as well as an overhead roof. In previous years when the weather was inclement, judging was held in the coliseum at the fairgrounds.

Topping the evening program will be the Miss Pumpkin Show Parade. Judging will also be held following the parade on the new W. Main St. platform.

THE 14 lovely young ladies will be seen in the parade this evening in addition to 16 bands and marching units, dozens of floats and other parade vehicles.

Continuous free entertainment is being offered at various locations on the midway. During the afternoon, thousands were entertained by the Micheletti Troupe, a bicycle act from France. Several musical shows were offered and various displays were opened to the public for the first time.

A highlight of this evening's free entertainment will be a one-act play presented on the W. Main St. platform by the Roundtown Players of Pickaway County. The play, "The Beauty Parade," is slated for 7:30 p.m.

The Herald will publish a complete Pumpkin Show daily program for the remainder of the week.

3 Criminal Cases Heard

Three criminal cases were heard by Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer Tuesday.

Robert Heeter, Circleville, pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery. Heeter had been on probation since Sept. 21, for issuing checks without sufficient funds.

He was sentenced to Mansfield Reformatory for one to 20 years. His probation on the other crime was revoked and a sentence on one to seven years was invoked. The terms are to run concurrently.

George Lagan Jr., Columbus, pleaded guilty to the charge of attempting to enter a vending machine. He was placed on probation for three years.

Bert Britt, Fayetteville, N.C., was indicted by the September Term Grand Jury for grand larceny. Britt entered a plea of guilty to the charge at his trial. The case has been continued.

Man Fined $75 For Assault

Robert Nungester, Circleville, was fined $75 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court Tuesday. He was also handed a 90 day suspended jail sentence.

Nungester was cited for assault and battery. Norma Hill forfeited a $25 bond when she failed to appear in court to answer a charge of using obscene language.

Court's Ballot Ruling Analyzed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decision making George C. Wallace the first third party candidate to get on the presidential ballot in all 50 states holds important implications for his future and that of American politics far beyond the impact it will have Nov. 5.

In a 6-3 decision Tuesday the court ruled that Ohio cannot impose "unequal burdens" on small parties in the form of stiff election regulations unless there is a "compelling state interest."

The immediate effect was to put Wallace's name on the ballot in one of the largest electoral states and one where Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon is leading in most public opinion polls.

Although likely to attract some conservative votes from Nixon, Wallace also could be expected to bite into labor votes that might have gone to Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey.

Wallace generally is considered to have some strength among blue collar workers in the state's big industrial centers, especially Akron and Cleveland.

Although there have been no independent published surveys of Wallace strength, estimates by Republicans and Democrats range from 10 to 25 per cent statewide, and much higher in some counties including Akron.

Ohio has 26 electoral votes. By getting on the ballot in every state Wallace has accomplished something that the highly popular Theodore Roosevelt, the well-regarded Robert M. LaFollette and the controversial Henry A. Wallace were never able to do.

State laws have inhibited it since the Republicans blotted out the Whigs in pre-Civil War days.

But now the one-man, one-vote Supreme Court has decided that it, instead of the states, is the final judge of qualifications of voters.

This is the court which the former Alabama governor has attacked vigorously in his campaign and has promised to replace—if perchance he might become president—with strict, old-style constitutionalists who would return, among other things, to equal but separate construction of law.

What Wallace has done, however, goes beyond the court's decision that Ohio's law requiring 400,000 signatures to place a presidential candidate on the ballot cannot be justified.

This means that for the foreseeable future, which certainly includes 1972, there will be a third party candidate for president who must be reckoned with.

Nixon Hammers At Same Themes In Election Drive

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, claiming the presidential lead in "every major state," moved today into what he called Operation Extra Effort—a campaign windup with an electronic focus.

The themes were familiar as the GOP nominee swung through the South and moved today to Kansas City.

Nixon described his plan for the remaining days of the White House campaign Tuesday before he set out from Key Biscayne, Fla.: "The fastest finish in campaign history."

Robert Ellsworth, his national political director, said that will mean an intensified television and radio campaign, plus a stepped-up regimen for the nominee.

It was evident that Nixon's windup plan does not include the kind of exhausting and extensive personal travel which marked his losing bid for the presidency eight years ago.

Then, in a 32-hour windup spring, Nixon covered more than 7,200 miles. Some of the major items in the current plan:

—A six-day-a-week schedule, with Sundays off, except, perhaps, for some radio and television tapings.

—Four hours of national television on Monday, Nov. 4, the day before the election. The whole show is to originate in Los Angeles, the first two hours aired in the East, the second in the West.

—A 10-night series, starting tonight, of 15-minute radio addresses on major campaign issues.

A 150-page compilation of the Nixon position on campaign issues.

Nixon reported his polls convince him he is ahead of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee. "We believe that we are ahead in every major state," he said.

In Kansas City, Nixon said new leadership in Washington must work to make sure that young Americans find a rewarding future in farming instead of leaving the nation's rural regions. "With new leadership we can, together, again make agriculture rewarding," he said in a speech prepared for the national convention of Future Farmers of America.

Pumpkin Chatter

The Hedges Chapel Booth, one of the more popular eating areas, is back. There were people waiting in line for it to open shortly before noon. They are famous for chicken sandwiches, chicken noodle soup and chili soup.

Many people who attended the Pumpkin Show look forward to sampling the fine delicacies and home-style cooking as much as anything else.

The rides were in operation by noon. There is a new one — the Spider. It resembles the old Octopus rides.

Chief of Police Robert Temple, the mayor, pumpkin show officials and operators of concession stands held a meeting today. Chief Temple told persons operating concessions that his department would expect complete cooperation from them.

Everybody comes to the Pumpkin Show, and last night people near Ashville thought that little green men in flying saucers might be among the visitors. . . . About 10 p.m. Ashville residents reported seeing a bright light in the sky. . . .

The light, according to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, was caused by the light of an experimental plane from Columbus.

Bridge Spacing Not Ordered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Highways today said truck spacing on the Ft. Steuben Bridge at Steubenville has not been ordered.

A spokesman said 45-foot spacing of trucks is being studied. Max Ross, department operations chief, said the bridge which carries Rte. 22 traffic between Steubenville and Weirton, W. Va., is in basically good condition but has some floor defects.

There was an earlier report that truck spacing had been ordered.

A 45-foot spacing of vehicles has been ordered for the Rte. 30 bridge between East Liverpool and Chester, W. Va.

Robbery Suspect Quickly Caught

AMITYVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — A bank was held up here Tuesday, for only the second time in the history of this Long Island community, and a suspect was caught minutes later when a policeman flagged down a train, thus blocking the street and trapping his quarry in a taxi cab.

Police said the robber entered the Security National Bank, giving the teller a note demanding money and threatening to use a gun. The teller put $490 in a bag and the robber fled on foot.

Patrolman George Kirwin, on a motorcycle, flagged down a train passing a crossing on the street, creating a traffic jam. Hethen found the suspect, unarmed, in a cab.

Arrested and charged with first-degree robbery was Larry L. Hawkins, 24.

Klamath Falls Zoo Deer Is Slain

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (AP) — Someone killed a three-point deer in the Klamath Falls zoo.

Police said Tuesday the deer apparently was enticed by hay to come to the fence of its compound Monday night. Someone stabbed it and it bled to death.

Cincy Workhouse Escapee Sought

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ronald Armstead, 23, listed as an escapee from the Cincinnati Workhouse, was shot and critically wounded by police today.

He was shot in the neck and shoulder.

Details of the shooting were not immediately available.

Pollsters Are Leery

NEW YORK (AP) — A survey among political pollsters shows they agree that their chances for error may be greater this year than at any time since 1948, when the major polls failed to predict the winner in the presidential race. The New York Times reported today.

In a story from its Washington bureau, the newspaper said that the pollsters are nonetheless confident that the odds are strongly in favor of their calling this year's election outcome correctly.

The story also said in part that the pollsters listed these major uncertainties as they drew near the time for their final pre-election polls:

—Refusal of an increasing number of persons, especially large city dwellers, to be interviewed by the polls, and the corresponding problem of how to allocate their votes.

—The questionable validity of techniques developed in two-candidate races for screening out those who won't vote and for allocating the undecided vote when applied to a three-candidate contest.

—An apparent lack of enthusiasm that may mean a higher than usual possibility of last-minute switches if there is a last minute campaign issue or disclosure.

Motorist Fined $15

Jack O'Dell, 21, Ashville, was fined $15 and costs by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb Tuesday for speeding 50 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone.

The court collected $174 in bonds, forfeitures, fines and costs from motorists who do not live in the Pickaway County area.

Thant Seeks Added Power For U.N.

Also Requests Salary Hikes For Employees

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Signs pointed today to Big Four acceptance of Secretary-General U Thant's proposal that their foreign ministers meet to discuss ways of bolstering the United Nations as a peace force.

However, U.N. delegates generally felt no date for a meeting could be set until after the U.S. presidential election; they pointed out that President Johnson could not commit the next administration to any such parley.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart of Britain told a news conference Monday he did not foresee a Big Four meeting before next year.

A spokesman for Thant said he had received unofficial reactions that were "not negative" from Stewart, French Foreign Minister Michel Debre, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and U.S. chief delegate J.R. Wiggins.

Because the cost of living has risen, he wants the assembly to raise the salaries next Jan. 1 of the U.N.'s professional and higher-ranking employees 5 per cent above the level set three years earlier.

The raise would result in gross salaries ranging from $7,600 a year for a starting assistant officer to $36,850 a year for an undersecretary-general.

Net salaries, after deduction of a staff tax, would range from $6,200 to $24,867.50. For a U.N. employee, his net salary corresponds to what an American on a regular job takes home out of his pay check.

The increase was recommended by the International Civil Service Advisory Board. It would add $3,741,300 a year to the U.N. budget.

The budget advisory committee also recommended that the assembly give him $1,356,800 in supplemental appropriations that would raise the final 1968 budget to $141,787,750.

Thant has recommended that the starting budget for 1969 be $140,520,210.

Drop Charges Against Men

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Police reports show that charges of carrying concealed weapons against two East Side men who identified themselves as bodyguards for Floyd B. McKissick were dropped earlier this year.

McKissick was national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) at the time.

The East Siders were identified as Alexander J. Weathers, 34, of 969 Lakeview Road, and Carl A. Johnson, 24, of 1458 E. 115th St. They were arrested early the morning of April 5, about eight hours after civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was assassinated in Memphis, Tenn.

Police said that Johnson told them that McKissick was sleeping in a house at 1229 East Boulevard and that his life had been threatened. The arrests were made at the rear of the house.

Curbing Census Takers

Before the Census Bureau gets around to asking its controversial questions — ostensibly in the name of the decennial census — Congress is going to have something to say about it. Judging by the 40 bills which have been introduced, in an attempt to limit the questions the bureau may ask, Congress wants to have a lot to say about it.

It ought to. As things stand, the Census Bureau can ask anything it wants to on its census questionnaire, and put you in jail if you refuse to answer.

Some of the questions the bureau intends using, such as whom do you share your bathroom with, are personal enough. But without some guidelines by Congress to establish limitations, the tendency of the census takers will be to become ever more all-encompassing.

Lost sight of by all it seems is the original intent of the census, as outlined in the U.S. Constitution. It was to be merely a head count every 10 years so the states' representation in Congress could be changed periodically with the shift in population.

From this simple beginning (which, incidentally, was followed almost without change until the 1960 census) the bureau now proposes a long list of questions to find out a good bit about every household, in addition to how many persons live there.

According to the executive director of the Federal Statistics Users Conference, adoption of any of the proposed congressional restrictions on census activities "could set the country's whole statistical system back into the 19th century."

That is a narrow point of view. There is more at stake than finding out — under penalty of jail — how Americans live. Private pollsters, after all, thrive on a high degree of accuracy by voluntary methods of questioning.

Who is to say that an irate citizen, faced with a possible jail sentence if he doesn't comply with Census Bureau dictates, will not get even by filling in the questionnaire with an assortment of erroneous answers?

Or is the next step in the bureau's march toward statistical progress an army of investigators to verify the answers?

Congress has a right and a duty to pull in the reins on this activity before it becomes more ridiculous.

The Business World

By LISA CRONIN (For John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — The facts and figures are in now and there's something frightening about them. You just can't hide from inflation, it seems, even at the country club. The cost of fun and play today is rising steadily.

True, inflation often hits hardest at the poor and those on fixed incomes, such as retirees. But the rich seem not to be that different; operating expenses of the clubs last year rose faster than income.

A survey just published shows that club costs were at a record high in the 12 months ended in May. Maintenance per hole, for example, rose to $4,329 at golf clubs, a jump of nearly $200 in one year.

It was the 19th hole that appears to have kept some clubs in the black. Bar bills brought in more than twice as much money as sports activities, a shocking fact until it is remembered that the cost of most sports is included in over-all dues.

The survey, conducted each year since 1954 by Harris, Kerr, Forster & Co., an accounting firm, revealed that membership dues rose to $549 from $322 a year earlier. Food-drink bills rose to $471 per person from $463.

Add in another $181 per member for other items, such as new putters and jackets and maybe swimming pool fees and the grand total spent per member came to more than $1,200, reason enough, you might agree, for all that grumbling at the bar.

This doesn't suggest necessarily that the clubs are going to go under or that its members will go broke. Prosperity has never been more evident at the clubs. But they are getting a lesson in inflation.

Despite dues increases, for instance, some clubs ran no farther ahead of the bill collector than their members. After deducting all operating expenses, only $24 was left of that $1,200 for repairs and paying off the debt.

That $24 might seem distressingly low, but perhaps it's misleading. In 1966 the average actually dropped to $10 per member. Club managers corrected that in 1967 by raising dues an average of $53, which was by far the biggest increase since the survey began. That resulted in $32 remaining after expenses. Based on the simple theory that what worked once will work again, it seems that club managers are about to raise dues again in order to bring that $24 nearer to the 1967 figure.

Things are little better downtown at the city clubs.

Membership dues and guest fees cost city members an average of $266 each, about 60 per cent more than 15 years ago. Bar and restaurant bills added another $308, and various other purchases, including rooms, added $120 for a grand total of $694 spent.

Stanley Kramer

By BOB THOMAS
AP Television-Movie Writer

TIVOLI, Italy (AP) — Stanley Kramer was celebrating his 56th birthday and his 33rd year in the movie business by completing "the most difficult picture of my career."

On a hillside in this ancient town outside Rome, the film maker was finishing a sequence in a cave that dates to Roman times. Anthony Quinn, as the wartime mayor of a small Italian village, was exulting over discovery of the caves as a place to hide a million bottles of wine from the Germans.

Although graying at the temples, he still retains the smooth face and youthful zest that made him a boy wonder with such early productions as "Champion," "Home of the Brave" and "High Noon." He admitted he was tired after 34 months of filming, almost entirely on locations.

"There are several reasons why this has been the toughest picture I have ever made," he remarked. "Nearly everything has been shot outside, and we ran into some miserable weather. The life at the village we selected, Anticoli Corrado, was unbelievably primitive."

"We had a big problem because we were recording live sound. In Italy they shoot without sound and dub in the dialogue later. It was extremely difficult to get enough quiet to record; the Italians are a very noisy people. We even had trouble with our own Italian crew, because they weren't accustomed to being silent during filming.

"But the biggest problem was the language barrier. I brought only 10 people from Hollywood; the rest of the crew is Italian. Except for Tony Quinn, all of the Italians in the picture are Italian. It was impossible to achieve immediate communication with either the cast or crew."

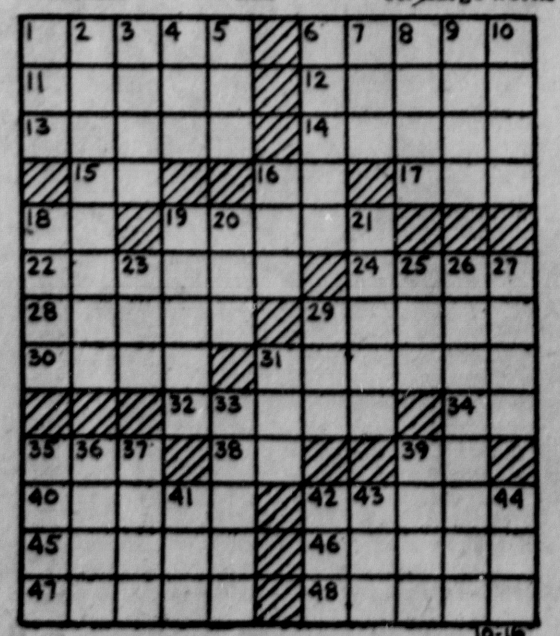

Kramer seemed pleased with the results he has achieved with "The Secret of Santa Vittoria," but he has been in the movie business too long to make any predictions. He started as a backlot worker at MGM in 1933, became a cutter, writer before turning producer in 1947. He became a director with "Not as a Stranger."

"I think 'Santa Vittoria' has some fantastic scenes," the director observed. "The actors have been remarkable. I've worked with some great performers—Spencer Tracy, the early Brando, Sidney Poitier. I haven't found a better actor than Tony Quinn. What a worker he is! He'll play a scene at full force 10 times, then ask to do it again because he wasn't satisfied with it."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

GARSON KANIN once directed a noted Polish tenor in a revival of "The Merry Widow." Tryout audiences had difficulty understanding the Pole. "Must I polish up my English?" the worried tenor asked. "Better still," suggested Kanin, "English up your Polish."

In Beverly Hills one morning, Ira Gershwin, lyric-writing whiz for his brother George, ran into his old friend Sam Goldwyn, now over 80. "My," enthused Ira, "you're looking great." "Yeah, yeah," sighed Goldwyn, ever the realist, "but what good does it do?"

One of the oddest entries in the new "Guinness Book of World Records" is headed "Rarest Diseases." The winner? "Kuru," limited to New Guinea. It's main symptom? Uncontrollable laughter, incurable, and one hundred per cent fatal. TV comedies and columnists, take heed!

There's one bus driver on the Madison Avenue route who has hung one of these shrunken heads over his coin box. He explains to curious passengers, "He wouldn't move to the rear of the bus."

A publisher advertised in the dailies, "Multi-millionaire, young, handsome, wishes to meet with view of matrimony a girl just like the heroine in So-and-So's just-published novel." Within 24 hours, a first edition of 25,000 copies was sold out.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is gonorrhea classed as a venereal disease? Can it be responsible for sterility in later life?

In big red letters it should be emphasized and taught that gonorrhea is most certainly a venereal disease. The nonsense passed around in sheer ignorance by many adolescents that gonorrhea is a "cold" of the genital region that can be easily cured must be hammered at by parents and educators.

Gonorrhea, a highly contagious disease, occurs in both sexes and is caused by the gonococcus germ. Promiscuity is the basis for the transmission of gonorrhea, which most certainly can later produce sterility in both the male and the female.

A mistaken notion exists that this highly active venereal disease cannot affect other parts of the body when it remains untreated. In the male, chronic infection of the prostate, special types of arthritis and even inflammation of the lining of the heart or endocarditis may complicate this "not so simple" condition.

In the female the germ may cause severe disease anywhere along the urinary, vaginal and uterine tract. Many cases of sterility have been traced to an infection that may have been untreated and even casually neglected.

Gonorrhea and syphilis are recorded to exist in almost epidemic numbers among young adolescents. Health campaigns and health education must continue relentlessly if permanent adult after-effects of teenage infections are to be prevented.

Can a child be born with a hernia? How soon after it is discovered is it safe for surgery to be done?

A hernia is a protrusion of an organ through a weakened part of the wall of the cavity in which it lies. Due to some fault in development, some normal openings of the body may fail to close leaving this weakness. This may lead to a congenital or birth hernia and is contrasted with one acquired any time during life by injury or lifting of heavy weights.

I assume that the hernia in question is in the area of the groin. These inguinal hernias occur both in the male and the female. Another common hernia occurs at the site of the umbilicus or navel in a new-born child.

Each hernia is specifically evaluated by the doctor and the surgeon, because no two cases are alike. Not all hernias are routinely repaired. Many definite indications for surgery depend on whether or not the hernia is dangerous. When there is the slightest possibility that this relatively simple condition in the groin can cause major trouble or complications, it is wise for surgery to be performed early.

Operations for these conditions are safe and are now routinely performed in very young children, who quickly recover and are no longer threatened by a situation that may later become difficult.

The combined opinion of the doctor and the surgeon and their decision to wait or to operate is the only dependable one. The parents' understandable hesitation over surgery must not interfere with their child's permanent health.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, Oct. 16, the 290th day of 1968. There are 76 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1793, Queen Marie Antoinette of France was executed. On this date, in 1815, Napoleon Bonaparte landed on the island of St. Helena as an exile. In 1859, abolitionist John Brown staged his raid at Harper's Ferry, Va.

In 1925, the Pact of Locarno was signed by Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium. In 1939, forces of Nazi Germany completed the conquest of Poland.

In 1940, 16 million Americans registered for the first draft under the Selective Service law. Ten years ago—Tunisia was in conflict with the United Arab Republic. Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba declared: "Yes, I am Western, and I will remain so."

Five years ago—Ludwig Erhard was elected chancellor of West Germany, succeeding Konrad Adenauer. One year ago—The U.S. Supreme Court agreed to decide whether a taxpayer may sue to block federal aid to parochial schools.

No Easy Parallel

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

If you are historically minded, it is a constant temptation to look for parallels between the 1968 political campaign and those that have gone before it. Thus George Gallup, thinking back to 1948 when Harry Truman fooled the pollsters by beating a complacent Tom Dewey in a last-minute surge, suggests that Hubert Humphrey may yet nose out Richard Nixon. Others see in Curtis LeMay's qualified endorsement of Barry Goldwater's fatal 1964 error in bringing up the subject of nuclear defoliation.

The trouble with this sort of thinking is that we are not the same people today that we were in 1944 or 1948. Four years ago the Democrats beat Goldwater by playing on fears of atomic destruction. Although the assassination of a beloved young President, John F. Kennedy, had caused guilt feelings among a few who wanted to make it up to the Democrats by electing Lyndon Johnson, the only thing that really bugged a majority in 1964 was the spectre of a possibly trigger-happy man in the White House. Goldwater must have lost a few million votes because of this single-track worry.

The question now is whether Curtis LeMay, as George Wallace's militaristic running mate, has set the stage for a mass defection of blue collar workers from Wallace back to Humphrey or Nixon. It is tempting to see a definite parallel here between 1968 and 1964, but there is no easy parallel. My reason for saying this is that Wallace has all along been the beneficiary of a score of fears that are more immediate than the fear of atomic warfare. Since 1964 we have seen cities in flames, riots in the streets, the mass tantilization of the police, the disruption of education in great universities and in urban primary school systems. Ethnic groups have been set against each other: for example, Negroes in the Ocean Hill-Brownsville section of New York City have been turning against Jews because they identify the trouble in their local schools with Jewish teachers appointed by a distant central educational establishment. The Irish and the Poles in Chicago fear for the value of their homes if "open housing" really takes hold. And in unionized industries, whites who hold good jobs worry about Negro competition.

There are so many fears rampant in the land that Wallace will certainly get a vote that can tip the scales in a number of incalculable ways. True enough, Gen. LeMay's evocation of the fear of atomic destruction might serve, in certain marginal instances, to cancel some of the fears that have been

According to Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — You hardly ever meet a totally happy man anymore, but Trevor Howard says he's one.

"I have no ambition except to be happy—happy enough not to need any other goal," said Howard, who at 52 is rated as one of Britain's top actors.

A slender forthright man with sea green eyes, ruddy cheeks and sandy-reddish hair, Howard is allergic to stuffy people, refuses to endure boredom, and enjoys a bit of larking when he isn't working. Having completed his 49th and 50th films recently—"The Charge of the Light Brigade" and "The Battle of Britain"—he was in merry mood during a recent visit here.

"I was the original rebel," he remarked, "but being alone at it, I wasn't able to win the battle. So now I've got the name of just being a hell raiser. After Errol Flynn left, I became No. 1."

Son of a British shipper, he spent five years of his childhood in Ceylon, disappointed his family when he chose to be an actor rather than a soldier. However, as a paratrooper officer in World War II, he won the Military Cross for gallantry.

"I became an actor because I couldn't think of anything else to be except a bum or a beachcomber," he said. "Once I was offered a job selling umbrellas in Argentina, but I didn't think I'd be good at that, and I turned it down."

Howard's deceptive skill at his trade won him fame in such films as "Brief Encounter," "The Third Man" and "Mutiny on the Bounty."

"I only do the things I want," he said. "A man's a Mongolian idiot to live any other way. What's the good of stacking money away if you can't take it with you?"

"I believe life is for laughs. If you've got laughs, you've got friends, and if you have friends you have loyalty, no matter where in the world you are—and, hell, what more do you want?"

Howard has an airy manner toward his profession that cloaks his own high standards of craftsmanship. He is repelled by highbrow phrases and pretentious attitudes.

"We don't have the Method School of acting in England," he said. We simply read the script, let it seep in, then go out on whisksers—and do it.

"Character roles, particularly if they are loud, boisterous characters, are easy to play. The subtle roles are the hard ones."

"Saints are very hard to play. But nobody wants to see a saint anyway. People are bored sideways with saints."

If he weren't an actor, Howard would like to be an explorer.

He is interested in animal conservation, particularly African elephants which he feels are nobler and gentler than people.

OCTOBER, 1953
15 YEARS AGO

The 47th annual Pumpkin Show was underway with 90 entries competing for the "Little Miss Pumpkin Show" title. Six-year old Brenda Joyce Lemaster of Circleville won the coveted title.

A "pie-guessing" contest was held. Fairgoers were to guess how long it took to bake the world's largest pumpkin pie baked by Lindsey's Bakery.

Representing Stoutsville High School, Miss Ruth Ann Valentine was selected as queen of the Pumpkin Show. Jill Moats of Circleville and Caroline Jane Kreisel, Miss Kingston, were named attendants.

Bill Cook won honors for the biggest pumpkin which weighed 100 pounds; the largest squash, 86 pounds; and best display of pumpkins and squash; the most unusual freak pumpkin or squash; largest Caushaw; and best pie pumpkin.

A new record of attendance was set at the Pumpkin Show when an estimated crowd of 70,000 jammed the streets on the final day. The overall attendance was an estimated 240,000.

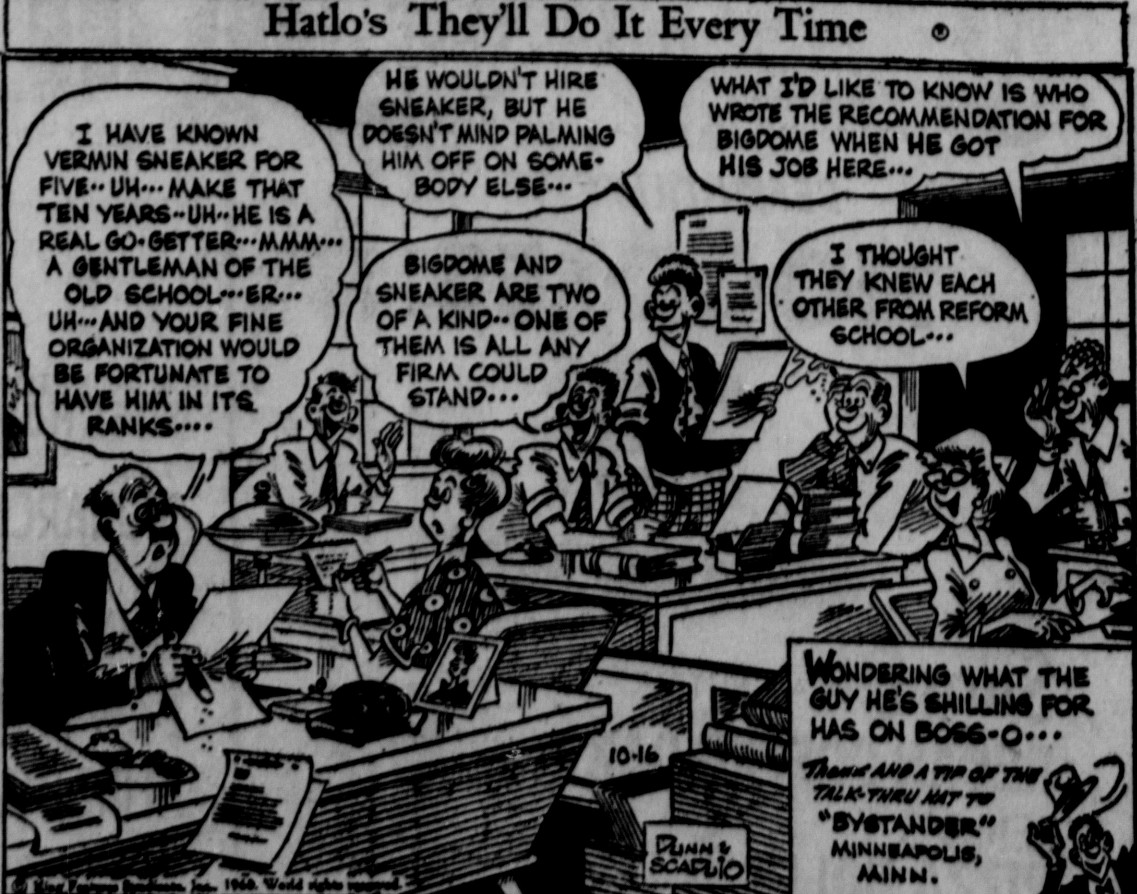

A sesquicentennial parade was held during the 1953 Pumpkin Show in observance of the 150th anniversary of the state of Ohio.

The Circleville Lions Club beard growing contest held in conjunction with the sesqui was won by W. E. (Red) Reichelderfer, in the "Country Colonel" competition; D. E. Nichols, fanciest mustache; Louis Richardson, best trimmed beard; and D. Dresbach, fullest brush beard.

At the close of the Pumpkin Show, the big pumpkin pie was auctioned, to be delivered to the home of the highest bidder. Paying $18.50 for the pie was Charles W. Beckett, who announced he was from Huntington, W. Va. He then donated the pie to the Children's Home.

The grand champion cake was baked by Mrs. Lee Smith and Adelaide Wertman had the champion cake.

Mrs. Everett Peters of Ashville was judged the grand champion pumpkin pie baker for the second consecutive year. Her prize — a Maytag automatic washer.

Anthropologist Sees Student Unrest In New Light

BPO Elks Increase Scholarships

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks celebrated its Centennial year by increasing the value of college scholarships to be awarded to needy students in 1968, Chester McKenzie, exalted ruler of Circleville Elks Lodge No. 77, announced today.

Exalted Ruler McKenzie indicated that the Elks National Foundation, the Fraternal Order's $18 million charitable trust fund, has increased the number of its Most Valuable Student Scholarships from 150 to 200, and the total amount of those scholarships from $133,000 to $181,000. The value of the top awards was raised from $2,000 to $2,500, and other awards were also increased.

Top students in this area who need financial help to complete their college education may compete for Most Valuable Student Awards, 100 for boys and 100 for girls competing in separate divisions, the value of which awards range from $2,500 down to $800.

The Most Valuable Student Competition is now in its 35th year. It is a nation-wide contest and open to all high school seniors and college students who are below the rank of college senior. All entrants must be citizens of the United States. This competition is aimed at helping the exceptionally able student and strongly stresses high school scholastic achievement.

In addition, the Elks National Foundation will award 295 college scholarships on a State quota basis, each scholarship in the amount of $600, with a total award of $177,000. The quota for Ohio is eight scholarships. These will be awarded through the Ohio Elks Association which will also select the same number of entrants for the Most Valuable Student Competition.

Application blanks for the Foundation scholarships will be available at the local Elks Lodge in Circleville in December, 1968. They may also be obtained from Al Berger, 114 1/2 North Court Street, Circleville. These applications must be completed and filed with the Lodge not later than February 15, 1969.

Exalted Ruler McKenzie and Circleville Lodge Youth Chairman Berger both strongly urge eligible students to make application. These scholarships are available and both McKenzie and Berger indicated that they would both be very pleased if some student or students from Pickaway County would receive one or more of the scholarships.

Nixon Wins Clinton Poll

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — A Wilmington News-Journal presidential poll shows Republican Richard Nixon ahead but with George Wallace of the American Independent party a strong second in this predominantly Republican and rural Clinton county.

The paper published a ballot for several days during a week's time.

The ballots returned showed 161 votes for Nixon, 131 for Wallace, 40 for Democrat Hubert Humphrey, 4 undecided and three for men who will not be on the regular election ballot.

Clinton county has a population of about 30,000 and the News-Journal has a circulation of 8,000. Although the county normally is Republican it was carried by President Johnson in 1964.

Hearing Scheduled In Slaying Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A preliminary hearing is scheduled Oct. 24 in municipal court for James A. Stitt, 19, charged with first-degree murder. Stitt entered an innocent plea Tuesday.

The youth is accused of slaying Emil Zbinden, 47, Columbus, whose body was found along the Big Walnut Creek south of here on Sept. 20. Stitt was arrested in Daytona Beach Fla., on Oct. 3.

Probe Blaze At Wilberforce

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP) — The State Fire Marshal's Office has been asked to investigate a fire Tuesday that caused extensive damage to an apartment house being built to house Central State University faculty members.

Fire Chief Ed Hawkins requested an investigation of possible arson after noting that fires broke out in three separate sections of the building at about the same time.

Workmen extinguished fires in two trash boxes downstairs before the bigger fire was discovered upstairs.

The fires caused an estimated $75,000 damage. Four nearly completed apartments were ruined and four others received heavy smoke and water damage.

NEW YORK (AP) — Is there rhyme or reason behind the current student unrest?

Parents, educators and others have agonized over the question since the student "movement," so full of sound and fury, so vague in its objectives, invaded the once placid campus scene.

To anthropologist Margaret Mead, the answer is affirmative and the reasons fairly clear. She believes the students are trying to break out of a snug cocoon, woven for them—and accepted—in times past but no longer useful.

She spells out her views in an article in the current Columbia Forum, at a time when the university, a storm center of student activists, is gingerly adjusting to the problems highlighted by last spring's great campus disturbances.

Dr. Mead is adjunct professor of anthropology at Columbia.

Her article is entitled, "The Wider Significance of the Columbia Upheaval." How the university solves its problems, she thinks, "matters to the whole country and, because of the inter-connectedness of the modern world, to educational institutions in other countries and to our changing political institutions."

Rebellious students generally square off against the "system"—which may mean a particular university, the national "establishment," or the universe.

At Columbia, Dr. Mead writes, the system was "neither despotic nor systematically exploitative," merely archaic. More fundamentally, she holds, students at Columbia as at other colleges until recently were treated as "wards of the academic institutions, a position that joins special controls with special privileges and immunities from the civil authorities."

The students position was one of "tutelage, socially privileged but politically and economically in the role of minors." Dr. Mead writes, adding: "The moralists who have lost out in regulating the private lives of mature adults still attempt to regulate the private lives of young adults by treating the late teens as an extension of childhood."

This worked while acceptable to all concerned. But now, according to Prof. Mead, higher education is no longer a privilege; it has become a "requirement laid on young people by the standards of employment in our society."

Since higher education has become a credential for a decent job in a technological society, she suggests, the acquisition of this prerequisite should no longer take place in a glorified play pen.

"It is no longer appropriate," she writes, "to treat students as a privileged and protected group who, in return for this special status, abstain from political activity... submit to the regulation of their private lives, and risk expulsion for every minor infraction of outmoded rules."

But why do some students take to civil disobedience and violence?

Dr. Mead recalls that the suffragettes, when women impetuously were seeking the right to vote two generations ago, "resorted to similar types of behavior—marches, hunger strikes, throwing themselves in the path of mounted police."

And she adds: "Whenever a group that has been required to be docile, segregated, submissive, undemanding, and unparticipating, glimpses the possibility of wider participation in the society, we may expect phenomena like these."

Her basic prescription for the student malaise is this:

"Today's students should no longer be dependent on their parents—those whose parents have any funds—nor should they be dependent on scholarships grudgingly doled out after a means test."

"They should be given full economic status, the status of an adult who is expected to marry, who works and has a Social Security number and may become a member of a trade union; someone who can get a mortgage and a telephone, buy furniture on time and can, if necessary, collect unemployment insurance."

"Under the guise of privilege and protection, we have been penalizing our student population, separating them from participation in the affairs of the real world and impairing their capacity to understand that world."

Anthropologist Sees Student Unrest In New Light

BPO Elks Increase Scholarships

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks celebrated its Centennial year by increasing the value of college scholarships to be awarded to needy students in 1969, Chester McKenzie, exalted ruler of Circleville Elks Lodge No. 77, announced today.

Exalted Ruler McKenzie indicated that the Elks National Foundation, the Fraternal Order's $18 million charitable trust fund, has increased the number of its Most Valuable Student Scholarships from 150 to 200, and the total amount of those scholarships from $133,000 to $181,000. The value of the top awards was raised from $2,000 to $2,500, and other awards were also increased.

Top students in this area who need financial help to complete their college education may compete for Most Valuable Student Awards, 100 for boys and 100 for girls competing in separate divisions, the value of which awards range from $2,500 down to $800.

The Most Valuable Student Competition is now in its 35th year. It is a nation-wide contest and open to all high school seniors and college students who are below the rank of college senior. All entrants must be citizens of the United States. This competition is aimed at helping the exceptionally able student and strongly stresses high school scholastic achievement.

In addition, the Elks National Foundation will award 295 college scholarships on a State quota basis, each scholarship in the amount of $600, with a total award of $177,000. The quota for Ohio is eight scholarships. These will be awarded through the Ohio Elks Association which will also select the same number of entrants for the Most Valuable Student Competition. Application blanks for the Foundation scholarships will be available at the local Elks Lodge in Circleville in December, 1968. They may also be obtained from Al Berger, 114 1/2 North Court Street, Circleville. These applications must be completed and filed with the Lodge not later than February 15, 1969.

Exalted Ruler McKenzie and Circleville Lodge Youth Chairman Berger both strongly urge eligible students to make application. These scholarships are available and both McKenzie and Berger indicated that they would both be very pleased if some student or students from Pickaway County would receive one or more of the scholarships.

United Methodist Women Schedule Charter Service

Historic events are taking place during the month of October in women's groups of the newly formed United Methodist Church, throughout all Methodism, with the observance of "The Service of Celebration." Charter meeting of the Women's Societies of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guilds, newly created by the unification of the women's work of the two great former churches, the Evangelical United Brethren and the Methodist Church.

All women of the church are invited to come together in one fellowship and are privileged to become charter members of this world-wide Christian organization.

The Women's Society of World Service of the Evangelical United Brethren Church brings into the Women's Society of Christian Service of the United Methodist Church a total of 2,919 local societies, with a membership of 105,420. The grand total giving of the year 1967 was $1,352,142.98. They also bring a subscription list to the World Evangel, a monthly publication of approximately 65,000, which represents 61 per cent of their membership.

The Women's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild of the former Methodist Church bring into the new organization, the Women's Society of Christian Service of the United Methodist Church over 1,500,000 members in more than 33,500 societies and guilds, 250,000 subscribers to the Methodist Woman, a monthly publication, and an annual budget of $11,100,000.

The roots and programs of these societies and guilds have related, in some measure at least, to its declared purpose: "To help women grow in the knowledge and experience of God as revealed in Jesus Christ and to challenge them to respond to God's redemptive purpose in the world."

Julie And David Set Wedding Plans, Keep Them A Secret

ABILENE, Kan. (AP) — Julie Nixon says she and David Eisenhower have set their wedding date. But they're keeping it a secret.

"I hope the wedding won't be turned into a TV spectacular," says David.

And while they were discussing their wedding plans, Julie's older sister, Tricia, was expressing her views on what she wants in a husband.

He must be "kind, sincere, honest and interested in other people—but he doesn't have to be interested in politics," Tricia, 22, told reporters Tuesday in Newark, N.J.

Tricia, like Julie and David, both 20, has been campaigning for her father, Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee.

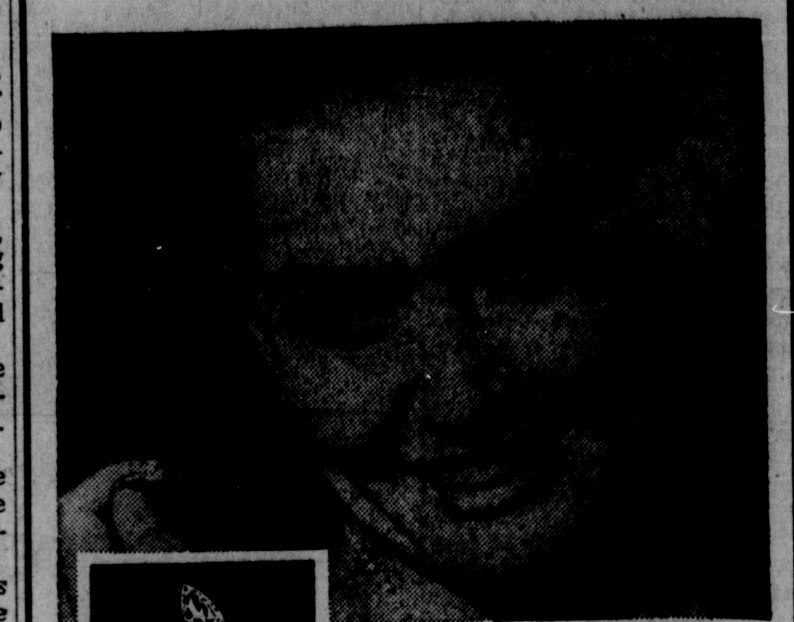

Sometimes, she said, she brings Democrats home for dinner but, "Daddy doesn't mind. We try to convert them."

She said despite what "the gossip columns say, I don't have any special friends, but a number of friends."

Julie's and David's remarks about the forthcoming marriage were made at a news conference held after they flew here from New York. They said Fred Grandy, a friend, will be best man and Tricia the maid of honor.

SINGER — Holiday Parker will sing three times during the Pumpkin Show. The 14-year-old singer and her band have scheduled performances 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Court and Main St.; 6:30 p.m. Thursday at Franklin St.; 7:30 p.m. Friday at West Main St. The group performs monthly shows at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Chillicothe and on Nov. 27 will give a benefit performance for retarded children in Columbus.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

No Such Thing As 'Must' Marriage

DEAR ABBY: Our 20-year-old son has just told us that he must quickly marry the little girl with whom he has gone steady since high school. She is 19. They are both in college and hope to graduate. Of course our hearts are broken, but what can we do?

Abby, the girl is really a sweet child, and she has adored our son for years. Our boy has never been in any kind of trouble and we have always been so proud of him.

Since this has come up so suddenly everyone suspects it is a "have to" wedding, so I am not going to deny it and look foolish 7 months from now.

What do I say when people "congratulate" me, and kiddingly call me "Grandma"? Some have even tried to "comfort" me with the stories of how they've had "have to" marriages in their families and things have worked out well. I am terribly hurt and don't know how I should act. Can you help me?

"GRANDMA" (SOON) DEAR GRANDMA: To all congratulations, say "Thank you." There is no such thing as a "have to" marriage. Every day pregnant girls are being deserted by bums who refuse to accept the responsibilities of marriage and a baby. No law in the land can "force" a man to marry a girl. If he marries her, it's because he WANTS to, not because he HAS to, so hold your head up, Grandma.

DEAR ABBY: I am 32, happily married to a wonderful man, and have three beautiful, healthy children. So what's my problem? My figure! I look good in my clothes, but without clothes I look like a tribeswoman of 70—thanks to having nursed three babies and the natural sagging that comes with added years. Hasn't plastic surgery come up with anything new in breast surgery?

I asked my gynecologist about those silicone shots, and he said it was dangerous and against the law in this country, and if I even considered such a thing he would refuse me as a patient.

Abby, isn't there any hope for those of us who feel repulsive compared to those gorgeous, full-bosomed girls we see in the ads?

FLAT IN ATLANTA DEAR FLAT: You're 32, happily married to a wonderful man, and have three beautiful, healthy children, so count your blessings, and subtract two. I agree with your gynecologist.

DEAR ABBY: I want to say something to that 14-year-old girl who "hated" her mother because she always nagged at her about her hair, her make-up and her friends.

Well, I am a 15-year-old girl who had the opposite problem. My mother never cared what I did or where I went. At 7 years old I was out roaming the street at midnight, and when I came home, nobody even asked me where I had been. I stole things out of stores, I lied, and did a lot of things I'm now ashamed of. I was never corrected or spanked or even bawled out.

My mother finally had a nervous breakdown, and I was sent from one foster home to another. I wasn't used to being corrected, so I'd keep running away. I am writing from a foster home now. It took a while for me to realize that my foster mother corrects me and punished me when I do wrong because she loves me and wants to teach me right from wrong. I would rather live here than with my real parents, but I still love them.

Sign me...

NEEDS LOVE CONFIDENTIAL TO FOR ME: Your "doll" sounds like she graduated "magna cum laude" from the Goldigger's School of Experience. Lose her.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Judge Is Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Alvin I. Krenzler, 47, of Beachwood was appointed by Gov. James A. Rhodes Tuesday as a Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court judge.

Krenzler, former assistant Ohio attorney general, succeeds Judge Victor Cohen, who resigned.

Draft Laws Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to create a greater public understanding of the laws and regulations governing the induction of personnel into the Armed Forces, the Selective Service System has prepared a series of pertinent questions and corresponding responses concerning provisions of the draft law. Here is another in the series.

Q: Must a registrant request a student deferment each year?
A: No, one request will suffice. It is the registrant's duty, however, to provide his local board each year with evidence that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction at his school.

Q: My son is planning to enter a local junior college. Is such a college considered an institution of higher learning for which a II-S deferment may be authorized?

A: A junior college is considered an institution of higher learning. If a student is taking a fulltime course of study and the credits are acceptable by an institution granting a baccalaureate degree, the student is eligible for classification in Class II. If the student is taking only a vocational or two-year terminal course, his classification would be II-A if a deferment was granted.

Q: Since taking my preinduction physical I have lost the vision in one eye. What should I do?

A: Obtain a statement from your doctor setting forth his clinical findings in this regard and present this statement to your local board as soon as possible. The board will normally then send this information with your examination records to the Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Station where you had your examination for evaluation by the physicians at that activity.

Schools' Future Hangs On Levy

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Perry School Supt. Richard L. Jones says he expects to lose at least half of his teaching staff if a 10-mill levy fails Nov. 5. The schools closed Tuesday for lack of funds.

The general fund for the Perry Board of Education dwindled to $6,000 after teachers and other officials were paid Tuesday.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

No Such Thing As 'Must' Marriage

DEAR ABBY: Our 20-year-old son has just told us that he must quickly marry the little girl with whom he has gone steady since high school. She is 19. They are both in college and hope to graduate. Of course our hearts are broken, but what can we do?

Abby, the girl is really a sweet child, and she has adored our son for years. Our boy has never been in any kind of trouble and we have always been so proud of him.

Since this has come up so suddenly everyone suspects it is a "have to" wedding, so I am not going to deny it and look foolish 7 months from now. What do I say when people "congratulate" me, and kiddingly call me "Grandma"? Some have even tried to "comfort" me with the stories of how they've had "have to" marriages in their families and things have worked out well. I am terribly hurt and don't know how I should act. Can you help me?

"GRANDMA" (SOON) DEAR GRANDMA: To all congratulations, say "Thank you." There is no such thing as a "have to" marriage. Every day pregnant girls are being deserted by bums who refuse to accept the responsibilities of marriage and a baby. No law in the land can "force" a man to marry a girl. If he marries her, it's because he WANTS to, not because he HAS to, so hold your head up, Grandma.

DEAR ABBY: I am 32, happily married to a wonderful man, and have three beautiful, healthy children. So what's my problem? My figure! I look good in my clothes, but without clothes I look like a tribeswoman of 70—thanks to having nursed three babies and the natural sagging that comes with added years. Hasn't plastic surgery come up with anything new in breast surgery?

I asked my gynecologist about those silicone shots, and he said it was dangerous and against the law in this country, and if I even considered such a thing he would refuse me as a patient.

Abby, isn't there any hope for those of us who feel repulsive compared to those gorgeous, full-bosomed girls we see in the ads?

FLAT IN ATLANTA DEAR FLAT: You're 32, happily married to a wonderful man, and have three beautiful, healthy children, so count your blessings, and subtract two. I agree with your gynecologist.

DEAR ABBY: I want to say something to that 14-year-old girl who "hated" her mother because she always nagged at her about her hair, her make-up and her friends.

Well, I am a 15-year-old girl who had the opposite problem. My mother never cared what I did or where I went. At 7 years old I was out roaming the street at midnight, and when I came home, nobody even asked me where I had been. I stole things out of stores, I lied, and did a lot of things I'm now ashamed of. I was never corrected or spanked or even bawled out.

My mother finally had a nervous breakdown, and I was sent from one foster home to another. I wasn't used to being corrected, so I'd keep running away. I am writing from a foster home now. It took a while for me to realize that my foster mother corrects me and punishes me when I do wrong because she loves me and wants to teach me right from wrong. I would rather live here than with my real parents, but I still love them.

Draft Laws Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to create a greater public understanding of the laws and regulations governing the induction of personnel into the Armed Forces, the Selective Service System has prepared a series of pertinent questions and corresponding responses concerning provisions of the draft law. Here is another in the series.

Q.: Must a registrant request a student deferment each year?
A.: No, one request will suffice. It is the registrant's duty, however, to provide his local board each year with evidence that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction at his school.

Q.: My son is planning to enter a local junior college. Is such a college considered an institution of higher learning for which a II-S deferment may be authorized?

A.: A junior college is considered an institution of higher learning. If a student is taking a fulltime course of study and the credits are acceptable by an institution granting a baccalaureate Degree, the student is eligible for classification in Class II. If the student is taking only a vocational or two-year terminal course, his classification would be II-A if a deferment was granted.

Q.: Since taking my preinduction physical I have lost the vision in one eye. What should I do?

A.: Obtain a statement from your doctor setting forth his clinical findings in this regard and present this statement to your local board as soon as possible. The board will normally then send this information with your examination records to the Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Station where you had your examination for evaluation by the physicians at that activity.

Mustangs Host East Clinton

The Westfall Mustangs will be trying to get back on the winning track Friday when they host East Clinton Local, a Clinton County consolidation.

The county's two other high school football teams, Logan Elm and Teays Valley are both on the road playing league games.

Teays Valley travels to Franklin Heights in Metropolitan League play. Logan Elm, completing its home schedule last week with Union, plays at Picketon Friday in the Scioto Valley Conference.

Fair weather and a fine football team have boosted the Westfall crowds this season and attendance at games has been the best ever, both at home and away.

THE explosive Mustangs coached by former OSU fullback Dave Katterhenrich play an exciting brand of football featuring a wide open attack.

The balanced backfield headed by John Furniss, who Katterhenrich says deserves All-Ohio honors, includes Greg Bigam, Gene Carfrey, Gene Schein and Ron Parsons.

Tony Light and Jack Moore are the ends on the Mustang squad. Marlin Howard and Tim Dewey the tackles. Bruce Sykes and Ron Greenwood the guards and Lewis Trapp the center.

East Clinton is a fairly new consolidation from Clinton County. The class A school has been invited to join the Scioto Valley Conference by the other members, but has not yet accepted or declined the invitation.

East Clinton has played Union and was crushed by a 56-0 score. Paint Valley beat

Al Oerter Shines With Gold At Olympics

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Al Oerter stood a man alone among Olympians today, serene and unperturbed in these strident, weather-plagued and racially-troubled 19th Olympic Games.

The strong man from West Islip, N.Y., who competes but rarely between Olympics, picked up his fourth consecutive discus gold medal Tuesday, the only track and field athlete ever to accomplish such a feat.

Asked his reaction, the 32-

year-old Oerter said:

"I'm tired."

His victory, plus a 1-2 finish in the women's 100 meters by Wyomia Tyus, who set a world record, and Barbara Ferrell pushed the United States well out in front in the medals race. Russia was blanked.

The United States now has a total of eight medals, four of them gold. Russia has five, one gold.

And the Americans stand a very good chance of adding substantially to that total Thursday with the start of swimming—which they are expected to dominate and in the pole vault and 200 meters.

Bob Seagren, who holds the pending world mark, and John Pennell, former world record holder, are favored in the pole vault.

Then too, there are John Carlos and Tommie Smith, along with Larry Questad in the 200 meters. Carlos and Smith both Negroes, have broken the existing world record. Carlos with a 19.7 and Smith 19.9 in the same race.

The day's activity in track and field began and ended in a torrential rain, braved by most of the crowd of about 40,000 and apparently bothering the athletes not at all.

Negro Athletes Snub Brundage

Won't Accept Medal From Him

MEXICO CITY (AP) — If American sprinters John Carlos and Tommie Smith win medals in the Olympic 200-meter dash today, will they let Avery Brundage hand them their laurels?

This became the guessing game of the Olympics after subtle new moves by U.S. Negro athletes which find the 81-year-old, embattled president of the International Olympic Committee caught in the middle.

"If I win a medal, I don't want Mr. Brundage to present it to me," said Smith, after qualifying for the final Tuesday.

The word is out that some of the black U.S. competitors, particularly those who earlier were instrumental in a threatened boycott, plan to put the snub on the IOC president.

Their reason: Brundage's strong stand in favor of admission of apartheid South Africa to the Olympics. The South Africans were admitted in February, later were tossed out when a boycott of the Mexico City Games was threatened.

A source close to the U.S. track and field team said that there was a quick change in presentation ceremonies after Jim Hines of Oakland, Calif., won the gold medal and Charlie Greene of Seattle the bronze in the 100-meter dash Monday.

Brundage had been slated to present the medals but the job instead was passed on to Lord Burghley of England, a longtime member of the IOC.

John Little Named Lineman Of Week

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
John Little started out by making believe for Oklahoma State and wound up making believers of Houston.

The 6-foot-3, 210-pound Little turned out to be Mr. Big as State upset 11th-ranked Houston 21-17 Saturday night. His performance won him recognition as college football's Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.

"He played the entire game with a slight injury but didn't let it slow him," said Coach Phil Cutchin.

Thompson, Beier Get MAC Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Miami's Kent Thompson and Steve Beier of Toledo are the Back and Lineman of the Week in the Mid-American Conference.

Thompson, a 6-foot, 175-pound native of Covington, Ky., was chosen after leading the Redskins to a 46-0 romp over Marshall last week. Playing only the first half, Thompson rushed nine times for 107 yards, including touchdown runs of 70, 7 and 19 yards.

He also completed four of 11 passes for 76 yards and one TD. Beier, who stands only 5-9 and weighs 170, is the smallest linebacker ever to be honored.

A native of Fremont, Ohio, he contributed 13 solo tackles and assisted on 11 others in a 0-0 tie with Bowling Green.

Other backs nominated were Frank Dreier of Kent State, Bruce Herdman of Ohio University, Bob Pfeiffer, Toledo, and Ken Woodside of Western Michigan.

Defensive candidates were Dave Polak, Bowling Green, Paul Jordan, Kent, Larry Draper, Miami, Chet Nolan, Ohio, and Paul Minnis, Western.

Gary Stenlund Out

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Gary Stenlund of Athens, Ohio, a U.S. entrant in the men's javelin, failed to qualify. His best effort was 261 feet, 2 1/2 inches. A distance of 262 1/2 was needed to qualify.

Oerter's winning throw was 212 feet, 6 1/2 inches, about five feet better than he was ever done before. He was followed by Lothar Milde of East Germany and Ludvik Daneek of Czechoslovakia.

Jay Silvester, who set an Olympic record in qualifying, could do no better than fifth, 202 feet, 7 1/4 inches.

Oerter, a 6-foot-4, 260-pound computer analyst who won his first gold at the Olympic Games in Australia in 1956, said, "I get fired up for the Olympics. Something happens to me when I get to the games. The people, the pressure, everything about the Olympics is special to me."

He said he wasn't sure whether he would try for a fifth in the 20th games in Germany. "Now, 1972 seems to be very far away," he said.

Miss Tyus, from Griffin, Ga., beat Miss Farrel, Los Angeles, by about a yard in 11 seconds flat, bettering the world record. It was her second consecutive Olympic 100-meter victory. Miss Farrel and Irena Szewinski of Poland, third, each were timed in 11.1.

Wyomia immediately announced her retirement after the Games. "I'm hanging up my shoes. I'm not getting any younger."

The medal awards were made in a driving rain, by Lord Burghley.

Tom Farrell of New York picked up the other U.S. medal, a bronze for third in the 800 meters. Ralph Doubell of Australia won it in world record matching time of 1:44.3, followed by Wilson Kiprugut of Kenya, 1:44.5, and Farrell, 1:45.4.

The United States was blanked in the 400-meter hurdles, Geoff Vanderstock being edged out in a blanket finish for second. Dave Hemery of England, who is a graduate of Boston U., and has spent a large portion of his life in the United States, won it in 48.1, a full second better than the listed record.

In the fight for the other medals, Gerhard Hennige, West Germany, took second, John Sherwood of Britain third and Vanderstock, Los Angeles, was fourth. All three were timed in 49 flat.

Two other gold medals were awarded, but the Americans blanked as expected. Waldemar Bazanowski of Poland won the lightweight weightlifting gold with a total of 964 1/2 pounds, an Olympic record, and defending champion Holland retained the 1,000-kilometer time trial cycling event.

The altitude apparently didn't bother Australian Ron Clarke, who collapsed and was unconscious for 10 minutes after finishing sixth in the 10,000-meter run Sunday. He qualified for the 5,000-meter finals easily and trotted off the track in good shape.

The United States scored its third consecutive basketball victory, a 96-75 triumph over the Philippines, with Coach Henry Iba using reserves most of the last half. The Yanks once led by 37 points at 7-13. Russia crushed South Korea 89-58.

Two more American boxers advanced. Albert Robinson, Oakland, Calif., stopping John Cheshire, Britain in the second round of a featherweight bout, and middleweight Alfred Jones, Detroit, outpointing Marcelo Quinones of Peru.

Everybody Happy As AL Draft Finishes In 6 Hours

BOSTON (AP) — The Kansas City Royals and the Seattle Pilots figure they are just about ready for entry into the 1969 American League pennant race after mixing age with youth in taking 30 players each at a cost of $175,000 per man in the expansion draft.

Everyone was in a happy mood Tuesday after AL President Joe Cronin hustled the draft through its six hours with the help of an IBM computer which provided data on players in lightning fashion.

"I'm sure we put some holes in a lot of clubs today," Charlie Metro, Kansas City's director of player procurement, announced gleefully.

"I'm completely satisfied with the draft, but I'm not completely satisfied with our personnel—and I won't be until we've won our division and the World Series," Seattle General Manager Marvin Milkes said.

"I think it was a very fair and equitable draft, the best in modern professional sports."

Even the Boston Red Sox, who pocketed $1.05 million like the other nine established clubs, were able to smile after losing six players, including regular third baseman Joe Foy and starting pitchers Gary Bell and Dave Morehead.

"We think we came out of it very good," Red Sox Manager Dick Williams said. "We were very lucky. We've protected a lot of young players."

Williams also had reason to be thankful that the Red Sox picked up $175,000 for Foy, who was drafted from the Minnesota organization for $8,000 five years ago and has spent considerable time in the managerial doghouse.

Foy has been inconsistent both at bat and in the field with the Red Sox, but figures to play full time in the managerial doghouse.

The Royals and Pilots showed completely different lines of thought in the early rounds of the draft. Kansas City went for young talent, making right-handed pitcher Roger Nelson of Baltimore the No. 1 selection

Chicago Bulls Top Knicks; Win, 100-96

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Motta was bubbling over with enthusiasm he had brought from successful coaching at Weber State, after opening his pro basketball coaching career with his Chicago Bulls' upset 100-96 victory over the New York Knicks in Madison Square Garden Tuesday night.

"It's like a dream," he said after the Bulls dissipated a 15-point third quarter lead, fell behind 87-84 and then fought back in the final see-saw minutes.

"They (the Bulls) needed this win, and I needed it to see if what I've been talking to them about has sunk in. I had to sell spirit and enthusiasm to them because we have no winning tradition to fall back on."

The Bulls, who lost 53 games last season and won only 29, showed the results as they out-hustled the rugged Knicks. With Flynn Robinson popping in 32 points, they outshot them until Cazzie Russell hit eight of nine shots in the third quarter for 17 of his 29 points and brought New York back.

But Chicago surged ahead to stay 91-89.

"I was on a team that won 29 straight games in college and I know what it is to develop a winning attitude," Motta said. "A lot of people think it's impossible to get up for 82 games, but we will."

Indians Lose 6 In Player Draft

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Indians lost six players in the American League expansion draft Tuesday and Tribe President Gabe Paul said "those taken were not playing so it could have been worse."

Pitcher Mike Hedlund, infielder Billy Harris and catcher Fran Healy went to Kansas City. Seattle picked infielders Chico Salmon and outfielders Tommy Harper and Lou Piniella.

Indians' Manager Alvin Dark said: "We protected our pitching... That's what carried us last season."

The Circleville Herald, Wed. Oct. 16, 1968 13
Circleville, Ohio

Meet The Tigers

Dick Walters (88) and Phil Diehl (87) are the two Circleville High School starting ends. Walters, a junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walters, Route 4. Diehl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Diehl, Dunkle Road. He is a senior.

Mustangs Host East Clinton

The Westfall Mustangs will be trying to get back on the winning track Friday when they host East Clinton Local, a Clinton County consolidation.

The county's two other high school football teams, Logan Elm and Teays Valley are both on the road playing league games.

Teays Valley travels to Franklin Heights in Metropolitan League play. Logan Elm, completing its home schedule last week with Union, plays at Picketon Friday in the Scioto Valley Conference.

Fair weather and a fine football team have boosted the Westfall crowds this season and attendance at games has been the best ever, both at home and away.

THE explosive Mustangs coached by former OSU fullback Dave Katterhenrich play an exciting brand of football featuring a wide open attack.

The balanced backfield headed by John Furniss, who Katterhenrich says deserves All-Ohio honors, includes Greg Bigam, Gene Carrey, Gene Schein and Ron Parsons.

Tony Lightle and Jack Moore are the ends on the Mustang squad, Marlin Howard and Tim Dewey the tackles, Bruce Sykes and Ron Greenwood the guards and Lewis Trapp the center.

East Clinton is a fairly new consolidation from Clinton County. The class A school has been invited to join the Scioto Valley Conference by the other members, but has not yet accepted or declined the invitation.

East Clinton has played Union and was crushed by a 56-0 score. Paint Valley beat East Clinton, 56-12. Westfall battled Union to a 12-12 deadlock earlier this season.

Last week the Mustangs suffered their only defeat of the season at the hands of state-ranked West Jefferson.

LOGAN Elm's ranks have been thinned by injuries and illnesses. Last night only 16 players dressed in pads for the practice session.

Picketon has won only one game this year, defeating New Boston two weeks ago. Last week they were beaten by Class AA Waverly, 60-16.

The Redstreaks run from a split T with a flanker. The flanker is frequently sent downfield as a pass receiver and the Picketon team has a fairly good passing attack.

Last week Picketon played without regular quarterback Alan Crace, who broke his left thumb about a week ago.

Teays Valley meets one of the better Metropolitan League teams in Franklin Heights. The Falcons were tied early this season by West Jefferson and lost last week to Hamilton Twp. to have their title hopes squelched.

Teays Valley, a young team under a new coach, has been constantly improving and last week held Dublin to an 8-8 deadlock in a league game.

Name Ohio Man
NEW YORK (AP)—Walter J. Michael, 67, Bucyrus, Ohio, was elected Tuesday into the Trotting Hall of Fame.

The current president of the United States Trotting Association was one of four leading figures in harness racing to be elected by the United States Harness Writers' Association.

Al Oerter Shines With Gold At Olympics

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Al Oerter stood a man alone among Olympians today, serene and unperturbed in these strife-ridden, weather-plagued and racially-troubled 19th Olympic Games.

The strong man from West Islip, N.Y., who competes but rarely between Olympics, picked up his fourth consecutive discus gold medal Tuesday, the only track and field athlete ever to accomplish such a feat.

Asked his reaction, the 32-

year-old Oerter said:

"I'm tired."

His victory, plus a 1-2 finish in the women's 100 meters by Wyomia Tyus, who set a world record, and Barbara Ferrell pushed the United States well out in front in the medals race. Russia was blanked.

The United States now has a total of eight medals, four of them gold. Russia has five, one gold.

And the Americans stand a very good chance of adding substantially to that total Thursday with the start of swimming—which they are expected to dominate—and in the pole vault and 200 meters.

Bob Seagren, who holds the pending world mark, and John Pennell, former world record holder, are favored in the pole vault.

Then too, there are John Carlos and Tommie Smith, along with Larry Questad in the 200 meters. Carlos and Smith both Negroes, have broken the existing world record, Carlos with a 19.7 and Smith 19.9 in the same race.

The day's activity in track and field began and ended in a torrential rain, braved by most of the crowd of about 40,000 and apparently bothering the athletes not at all.

Negro Athletes Snub Brundage

Won't Accept Medal From Him

MEXICO CITY (AP) — If American sprinters John Carlos and Tommie Smith win medals in the Olympic 200-meter dash today, will they let Avery Brundage hand them their laurels?

This became the guessing game of the Olympics after subtle new moves by U.S. Negro athletes which find the 81-year-old, embattled president of the International Olympic Committee caught in the middle.

"If I win a medal, I don't want Mr. Brundage to present it to me," said Smith, after qualifying for the final Tuesday.

The word is out that some of the black U.S. competitors, particularly those who earlier were instrumental in a threatened boycott, plan to put the snub on the IOC president.

Their reason: Brundage's strong stand in favor of admission of apartheid South Africa to the Olympics. The South Africans were admitted in February, later were tossed out when a boycott of the Mexico City Games was threatened.

A source close to the U.S. track and field team said that there was a quick change in presentation ceremonies after Jim Hines of Oakland, Calif., won the gold medal and Charlie Greene of Seattle the bronze in the 100-meter dash Monday.

Brundage had been slated to present the medals but the job instead was passed on to Lord Burghley of England, a long-time member of the IOC.

Thompson, a 6-foot, 175-pound native of Covington, Ky., was chosen after leading the Redskins to a 46-0 romp over Marshall last week. Playing only the first half, Thompson rushed nine times for 107 yards, including touchdown runs of 70, 7 and 19 yards.

He also completed four of 11 passes for 76 yards and one TD. Beier, who stands only 5 - 9 and weighs 170, is the smallest linebacker ever to be honored. A native of Fremont, Ohio, he contributed 13 solo tackles and assisted on 11 others in a 6-0 tie with Bowling Green.

Other backs nominated were Frank Dreier of Kent State, Bruce Herdman of Ohio University; Bob Pfeiffer, Toledo, and Ken Woodside of Western Michigan.

Defensive candidates were Dave Polak, Bowling Green, Paul Jordan, Kent, Larry Draper, Miami, Chet Nolan, Ohio, and Paul Minnis, Western.

Gary Stenlund Out
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Gary Stenlund of Athens, Ohio, a U.S. entrant in the men's javelin, failed to qualify. His best effort was 241 feet, 2 1/2 inches. A distance of 262-5/8 was needed to qualify.

"He played the entire game with a slight injury but didn't let it slow him," said Coach Phil Cutchin.

John Little Named Lineman Of Week
By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

John Little started out by making believe for Oklahoma State and wound up making believe for Houston.

The 6-foot-3, 210-pound Little turned out to be Mr. Big as State upset 11th-ranked Houston 21-17 Saturday night. His performance won him recognition as college football's Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.

"He played the entire game with a slight injury but didn't let it slow him," said Coach Phil Cutchin.

Thompson, Beier Get MAC Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Miami's Kent Thompson and Steve Beier of Toledo are the Back and Lineman of the Week in the Mid-American Conference.

Thompson, a 6-foot, 175-pound native of Covington, Ky., was chosen after leading the Redskins to a 46-0 romp over Marshall last week. Playing only the first half, Thompson rushed nine times for 107 yards, including touchdown runs of 70, 7 and 19 yards.

High Court Nixes Appeal By Ohioan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Loveland man, contending his arrest made on the basis of a police broadcast was illegal, lost his appeal Tuesday before the U.S. Supreme Court which declined to hear the case.

George Fultz, 36, was arrested April 30, 1966, by highway patrolmen who had been informed by radio that a warrant for assault and battery had been issued against Fultz.

The arrest followed a fight at a trailer court near Cincinnati where several shots were fired. State patrolmen said a search of Fultz's car turned up a concealed weapon.

Hamilton County Common Pleas Court ruled in December 1966 that the arrest of Fultz on a concealed weapons charge was legal. The ruling was later affirmed by the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals and the State Supreme Court.

Sentencing was delayed pending the appeals.

Children Injured By Careening Car
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Two children were seriously injured when an auto jumped the curb and plowed into a group of about 20 youngsters in front of a YMCA - YWCA on Addison Road Tuesday.

Seven children were admitted to Mount Sinai Hospital and five were reported in good condition.

The driver of the auto, James Young, 25, Cleveland, was charged with driving while intoxicated.

Tyrone Carswell, 6, was listed in critical condition at the hospital. He suffered head and internal injuries. Five-year-old Ronnie Clark was reported in guarded condition.

land, who is a graduate of Boston U., and has spent a large portion of his life in the United States, won it in 48.1, a full second better than the listed record.

In the fight for the other medals, Gerhard Hennige, West Germany, took second, John Sherwood of Britain third and Vanderstock, Los Angeles, was fourth. All three were timed in 49 flat.

Two other gold medals were awarded, with the Americans blanked as expected. Waldemar Baszanowski of Poland won the lightweight weightlifting gold with a total hoist of 964 1/2 pounds, an Olympic record, and defending champion Holland retained the 1,000-kilometer time trial cycling event.

The altitude apparently didn't bother Australian Ron Clarke, who collapsed and was unconscious for 10 minutes after finishing sixth in the 10,000-meter run Sunday. He qualified for the 5,000-meter finals easily and trotted off the track in good shape.

The United States scored its third consecutive basketball victory, a 96-75 triumph over the Philippines, with Coach Henry Iba using reserves most of the last half. The Yanks once led by 37 points at 7-13. Russia crushed South Korea 89-58.

Two more American boxers advanced. Albert Robinson, Oakland, Calif., stopping John Cheshire, Britain in the second round of a featherweight bout, and middleweight Alred Jones, Detroit, outpointing Marcelo Quinones of Peru.

Everybody Happy As AL Draft Finishes In 6 Hours

BOSTON (AP) — The Kansas City Royals and the Seattle Pilots figure they are just about ready for entry into the 1969 American League pennant race after mixing age with youth in taking 30 players each at a cost of $175,000 per man in the expansion draft.

Everyone was in a happy mood Tuesday after AL President Joe Cronin hustled the draft through its six hours with the help of an IBM computer which provided data on players in lightning fashion.

"I'm sure we put some holes in a lot of clubs today," Charlie Metro, Kansas City's director of player procurement, announced gleefully.

"I'm completely satisfied with the draft, but I'm not completely satisfied with our personnel—and I won't be until we've won our division and the World Series," Seattle General Manager Marvin Milkes said.

"I think it was a very fair and equitable draft, the best in modern professional sports."

Even the Boston Red Sox, who pocketed $1.05 million like the other nine established clubs, were able to smile after losing six players, including regular third baseman Joe Foy and starting pitchers Gary Bell and Dave Morehead.

"We think we came out of it very good," Red Sox Manager Dick Williams said. "We were very lucky. We've protected a lot of young players."

Williams also had reason to be thankful that the Red Sox picked up $175,000 for Foy, who was drafted from the Minnesota organization for $8,000 five years ago and has spent considerable time in the managerial doghouse.

Foy has been inconsistent both at bat and in the field with the Red Sox, but figures to play full time in the managerial doghouse.

The Royals and Pilots showed completely different lines of thought in the early rounds of the draft. Kansas City went for young talent, making right-handed pitcher Roger Nelson of Baltimore the No. 1 selection and following with Foy. The Pilots went for older veterans, taking first baseman Don Mincher from California and then outfielder Tommy Harper from Cleveland and shortstop Ray Oyler from Detroit.

Later, Seattle grabbed outfielder Tommy Davis, a two-time National League batting champion, from the Chicago White Sox, and southpaw Steve Barber from New York before going for younger players.

The Pilots drafted seven players over 30 years old. Kansas City picked only three, including Moe Drabowsky, 33, from Baltimore and Hoyt Wilhelm, 45, from Chicago, both in the fifth round.

Indians Lose 6 In Player Draft
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Indians lost six players in the American League expansion draft Tuesday and Tribe President Gabe Paul said "those taken were not playing so it could have been worse."

Pitcher Mike Hedlund, infielder Billy Harris and catcher Fran Healy went to Kansas City. Seattle picked infielders Chico Salmon and outfielders Tommy Harper and Lou Piniella.

Indians' Manager Alvin Dark said: "We protected our pitching... That's what carried us last season."

"They (the Bulls) needed this win, and I needed it to see if what I've been talking to them about has sunk in. I had to sell spirit and enthusiasm to them because we have no winning tradition to fall back on."

The Bulls, who lost 53 games last season and won only 29, showed the results as they outlasted the rugged Knicks. With Flynn Robinson popping in 32 points, they outshot them until Cazzie Russell hit eight of nine shots in the third quarter for 17 of his 29 points and brought New York back.

But Chicago surged ahead to stay 91-89.

"I was on a team that won 29 straight games in college and I know what it is to develop a winning attitude," Motta said. "A lot of people think it's impossible to get up for 82 games, but we will."

Montreal Mayor Human Whirlwind

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — The man who runs the second largest French-speaking city in the world is off and running again as Montreal prepares to field
Canada's first major league baseball team.

Jean Drapeau, re-elected mayor in 1966 by an unprecedented 95 per cent of the vote, doesn't know how to stand still.

There have been some flat spots in his career, but Drapeau's 52 years resemble the kind of kaleidoscope that could be seen at Montreal's Expo 67 or at the so-called Son of Expo, a permanent summer fair formally known as "Man and His World" which the city has set up at the Expo site.

Once known as a timid boy,
Drapeau turned into a lawyer and vice-busting prosecutor. He became mayor at 38, lost the job, then came back to help transform the city of 2 1/2 million.

An array of skyscrapers, a new cultural center, a subway with trains on rubber tires—these are some of the developments in his reign.

A crucifix and a picture of Elizabeth II, queen of Canada as well as of Britain, hang in Drapeau's office.

He greeted a reporter with a cheery "Comment allez-vous?"
then switched easily to English.
He often talks in millions, but he observed:

"My own definition of prosperity is expressed in terms of the speed with which $1 changes hands. If in one day the same $1 changes hand 100 times, that makes 100 people happy. Perhaps it comes back to the first spender. But if the first keeps his dollar, there is no happiness and no prosperity."

To a suggestion that the advertising world could have used him, the mayor grinned:

"Ah, but you cannot succeed just by advertising a bad product. The product has to be good, and Montreal is good."

"Great cities can no longer get big industries within their borders . . . these establish in the suburbs. So sports business and show business are very big industries. They not only bring in thousands of people for themselves, but they are generators of business."

"The combination of baseball and Man and His World here—that's perfect."

Occasionally citizens boggle at the costs involved. They argue that the city's $26-million deficit can never be overtaken by a city lottery, now under attack in the courts. But he is optimistic, and says: "More and more great cities must provide their citizens with better means of living, not materially but spiritually."

Some Quebecers think this province's future lies in separation from the rest of Canada.
Drapeau is not one of them, but he suggests that the French-speaking people who dominate Quebec are among the nation's greatest assets.

He says Canada could not exist but for the French-Canadians who fought off American attacks after the Revolutionary War.

In July 1967 he heard Charles de Gaulle echo the cry of the separatists, "Long live free Quebec," at Montreal's City Hall.
Drapeau, descended from a French-tailor who came to New

France 303 years ago, struggled for hours to compose a reply, only to discard his notes. Finally he rose at a civic luncheon and delivered an impromptu address, courteous to the French president but stalwart in Cana-dianism:

"The best formulas . . . serve all of Canada best, and the North American continent . . .
"Our ancestors, our grandparents, our parents have saved
French Canada and, like France under your leadership, turn resolutely to the future."

Arkansas, SMU Picked To Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The annual scramble for the Southwest Conference football crown abounds with hurdles and hazards at every bend... and seldom does the survivor gallop into the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day without having taken at least one jarring spill.

Arkansas and Southern Methodist, two teams picked by most pre-season experts to finish down the line, have come up with sophomore passing phenoms and risen to the head of the conference pack. This week, the Razorbacks' Bill Montgomery and SMU's Chuck Hixson should encounter their most severe tests to date.

But we look for the kid quarterbacks to keep the faith in Fayetteville and Dallas... at least for one more week.

We were on Cloud Nine last weekend when upset pick Ohio State flattened then top-ranked Purdue. But the trip was short-lived. When all the returns were in, the weekend was lost. We were 33-21-1, the worst showing thus far, and the over-all state dipped to 173-58-8, a 724 pace.

Plunging ahead, with renewed vigor:

Arkansas over Texas: Montgomery saved the Hogs' bacon last week after they'd blown most of a 21-0 lead against Baylor. If he duplicates that 259-yard air burst in Longhorn Country, Arkansas will finish the day at 5-0.

Southern Methodist over Rice: Hixson, the nation's total offense leader, and jet-propelled Jerry Leivas made the Mustangs go in last week's conference opener against TCU. An encore is in order for the home folks in Big D.

Tennessee over Alabama: The Vols are quicker on the trigger with Richmond Flowers in the backfield and Bubba Wyche calling the shots.

Nebraska over Missouri: Greg Cook, the Tigers' talented tailback, hasn't run into the likes of Nebraska yet. And the Cornhuskers should be meaner than an ever after stumbling against Kansas in last week's Big Eight headliner.

Saxbe Against Bombing Halt

CINCINNATI (AP)—"We can't stop the bombing of artillery emplacements and other military targets in North Vietnam as long as we have any troops fighting in South Vietnam," said William Saxbe Tuesday night.

Saxbe, campaigning for the U.S. Senate, called for continued bombing "as long as a single American soldier is left there."

Speaking at Republican party rallies at Anderson Township High School and Sycamore High School, he said:

"The first order of business of the new Republican leadership in Washington must be to stop the war in Vietnam. We must begin the withdrawal of our troops as we train others to take over."

Appearing with Saxbe was fellow party member U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr. who accused Saxbe's Democratic opponent, John Gilligan, of misrepresenting Saxbe in claiming him to be Ohio's chief law enforcement officer—hardly responsible, Taft said, for what Gilligan contends is a state crime rate far ahead of the national average.

He doesn't have the duty of law enforcement in Ohio," declared Taft.

Gilligan, he said, "might study the record of the do-nothing attorney general in Washington who does have the power of law enforcement."

Allen Wins Two At Speedway

Ronny Allen of Circleville dominated action at the Pickaway Speedway Sunday, winning the feature oval race and the figure eight.

Steve Walker of Laurelville was second in the feature and Taylor Bowsher was third.

In the figure eight, Eugene Conkel was second and Larry Weaver third.

Marvin Stump won the trophy dash. Heat winners were Ernie Adams, Charles Brown, Marvin Stump and Eugene Conkel.

Kansas over Oklahoma State: The Jayhawks, unbeaten in four starts, are beginning to get that No. 1 feeling.

Michigan over Indiana: The heart-stopping Hoosiers hoodwinked Iowa 38-34 last week to stay atop the Big Ten heap. But Michigan has the momentum, and Ron Johnson, on its side.

Minnesota over Michigan State: Points should be hard to come by in this collision of doomsday defenses. One vote for burly Bob Stein and the Gophers.

Arizona State over Oregon State: Earthquake Envyart, Oregon State's one-man gang, will

Cernik Back From Russia With 'Treaty'

Pact Legalizes Soviet Occupation Of Czechoslovakia

MOSCOW (AP)—Czechoslovak Premier Oldrich Cernik returned to Prague today after two days of Kremlin talks to complete a treaty legalizing the Soviet occupation of his country. Unofficial reports said agreement was reached Tuesday on terms of the treaty giving formal approval to the presence in Czechoslovakia of troops from the Soviet Union and other Communist countries.

Cernik and his delegation were seen off at the airport by Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko and other officials.

Informed sources said Cernik would present the treaty to government officials in Prague for their approval and a signing ceremony will be held "in the nearest future," probably in Prague.

Kosygin is expected to sign for the Soviet Union.

A brief communique Tuesday said the Czechoslovaks and the Soviets "exchanged views on... the question of the terms for the temporary stay of Soviet troops" in Czechoslovakia.

Details were not revealed, but reports from Prague have indicated the Soviets want to keep between 50,000 and 100,000 troops in the country. Estimates of the total occupation force range from 275,000 to 600,000.

The Russians promised to start pulling out troops as soon as liberalizing trends in Czechoslovakia were halted and the position of the Communist party was strengthened. The absence of criticism in the Soviet press in recent days indicates progress is being made toward those goals.

NEW YORK (AP)—Playwright J. P. Miller's message to worried and nonplussed parents of rebellious and alienated children is curt and clear: They have only themselves to blame. Miller's message was delivered in his original drama—melodrama, really—called "The People Next Door," the first production of this season's "CBS Playhouse" on Tuesday night.

The story opened with a hectic pre-dinner martini gathering in the upper middle-class, upper middle-income home of one couple with a 16-year-old daughter and a boy a few years older.

The shabby behavior and easy morality of the elders was revealed quickly. The wife of a teacher who lives next door has had a couple of drinks too many. The husband of the house storms in from duck hunting and admits that, although the limit was three ducks, he shot a dozen.

There followed an angry scene with the son, a long-haired, guitar-playing fellow with a slightly condescending attitude. The distraught daughter rushed to her room and took off on a bad LSD trip.

Thereupon we learn that the young girl has been experimenting not only with drugs but with sex. When confronted by her frantic, handwringing mother and aggressive father, we then learn that the girl has seen her father with other women and is aware that her parents were intimate before their own marriage.

Both children, as the son explained, have lost respect for their parents and have left them in different ways. The boy has moved on from marijuana to be a turned-on philosophical dropout. The daughter moves on to stronger drugs, East Village excesses, and winds up a patient with a bad prognosis in a mental institution.

Meanwhile, the "good boy" next door—the one with the short hair cut and the good school marks has been pushed beyond endurance by his parents. He winds up revealed as the neighborhood drug pusher.

It is interesting that the hippie son in the Miller drama is the closest there is to a hero. The parents, all four, are the inadvertent villains.

The 90-minute program lacked any kind of a resolution. Neither set of parents seemed to be any more enlightened or subjective at the end than at the beginning, and the play closed in tragedy and without much hope.

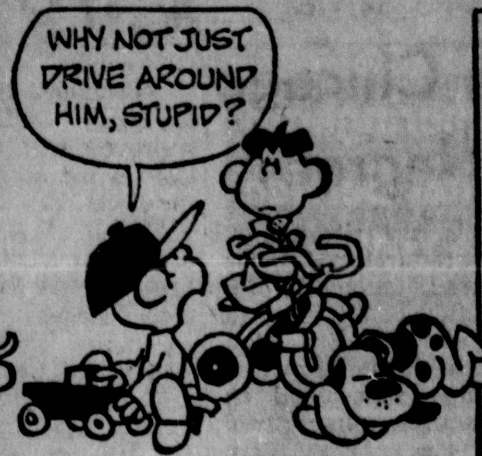

If the dramatic structure left something to be desired, the play was nevertheless emotion- and thought-provoking, and obviously was written with passion and conviction.

The acting throughout was excellent. Lloyd Bridges was convincing as the tough, intransigent father. Kim Hunter fluttered pitifully as the shocked mother. The most brilliant performance was turned in by a 14-year-old, Deborah Winters, who made a drug-induced descent into a permanent hell seem very real and terrible.

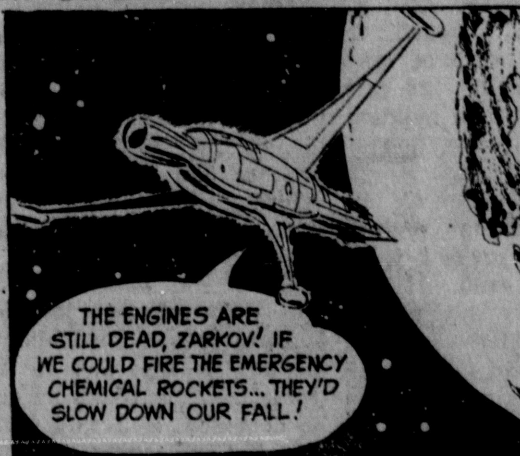

It is a show that will no doubt be the subject of some heated debate for some time to come.

CBS has signed comedian-singer Jim Nabors for a series of weekly variety hours to start next season. That means that "Gomer Pyle," starring Nabors and one of the most popular series currently on the air—it ranked No. 2 in the most recent Nielsen ratings—will be retired at season's end.

Some Good Seen In Chicago School Boycott By Negroes

CHICAGO (AP) — Most Chicago school officials have reacted with alarm to Negro student agitation which has thrown many of the city's high schools into turmoil, but two officials see cause for encouragement.

Some 5,000 Negro high school students stayed away from classes Tuesday in continuing protests to dramatize their demands for more representation, more Negro teachers and administrators and more Negro studies. Seventeen persons were arrested.

A boycott Monday kept almost half the city's Negro enrollment of 62,000 out of school.

The demonstrations illustrate "a healthy attitude despite the fact that here and there some excesses are engaged in," Warren Bacon, a Negro member of the Board of Education, has said.

"We should be pleased that black students are really becoming concerned about their education and that their interest is awakened to the relevance of schools to their lives," he added.

Said Joseph Rosen, district superintendent for a West Side area in which some of the trou-

Major School Aid Measures To Be Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation is investing over $10 billion in the education of its young people—college students and slum kids.

The funds, authorized in two bills due to be signed by President Johnson today, extends school and student aid programs for three years and increases funds for work training programs designed to break youngsters from slum poverty cycles.

Contained in the $7.3-billion aid to higher education act is a provision shutting off aid to students convicted of taking part in activities which disrupt a college or university.

Violations of college regulations "of a serious nature" or a civil conviction stemming from disruptions make the student liable to lose federal assistance for two years.

The higher education bill also contains a section removing from the Office of Economic Opportunity the Upward Bound program designed to accclimate ghetto youngsters to campus atmosphere. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare takes the program over.

The $3.1-billion vocational education bill contains a rider which some legislators said would nullify much of the $6-billion federal spending cut decreed by Congress.

Sponsors of the rider said it was intended to remove the power of the President and his Budget Bureau to make any reductions in education funds below the amounts appropriated by Congress.

The biggest authorization in the higher education bill, $3.1 billion, would cover grants and loans for building construction.

The next biggest item in the bill, $1.87 billion, will make funds available for direct loans to students, federal scholarships, and government insurance of private loans.

Shillito's Plans Sunday Hours

CINCINNATI (AP) — Shillito's, one of Cincinnati's largest department store chains, plans Sunday hours beginning Nov. 24 for three of its shopping center branches. A spokesman said the firm has been forced into the decision because of weakly enforced state laws.

"Surveys we have made show that 50 retail stores . . . are doing business in the Cincinnati Market area," the spokesman said Tuesday. "And this does not include the many food stores now open for Sunday selling."

Ineffectual enforcement of state laws against the Sunday sales is a key factor behind the trend, he said — adding that Shillito's traditionally has been against Sunday sales.

Hunter Killed In Lucas County

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Louis Reves, 36, of Toledo, a double-amputee, was killed Tuesday when the shotgun he was handling with artificial arms discharged accidentally.

Reves was duck hunting in north Lucas County with a nephew Stephen Toth, 24, of Toledo. Toth said Reves was using a shotgun designed especially to be triggered by pressure on its side.

to repair traffic lights. Also approved was the transfer of $125 to the service department for clerk hire.

A total of $1,050 was appropriated to Municipal Court to pay for legal forms and to pay acting judges.

OF that total, $500 was transferred with the already established budget of the court and $550 was transferred from the general fund.

Mrs. Helen Smith, 121 E. Union St., asked council to abandon a small strip of land measuring 11 feet by 128 feet which is adjacent to a building she owns at the intersection of Main and Scioto Streets.

The land in question is on the southeast corner of the intersection. At present it is a small grassed area. At one time when Mader's Funeral Home was located in the building, a goldfish pond was maintained there.

Chief of Police Robert Temple recommended that council reject a request for approval of a carryout liquor license for Palm Salvage.

Temple said that four families in the area had objected on the grounds that the owner already operated one carry-out on East Main St. Those objecting were Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mills, Rosemary Dunkle and Herbert Southward.

Council will meet in an adjourned session 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday to act on the request for a liquor permit.

COUNCIL BRIEFS
Councilmen hoped to hold a comparatively short session Tuesday, but because of discussion and communications to council, it lasted well over two hours.

Councilman Boyd Horn wanted to know if Chief Bernard Wolfe would permit residents to burn their leaves. The Chief quickly explained that he had no intention of permitting the burning of leaves. He noted the city's new leaf vacuum was just about ready for action.

The new machine can cover the city in about a week's time, council was told.

Police Chief Robert Temple announced that his department was ready for the big Pumpkin Show. Sgt. Harris of Chillicothe and Municipal Court Bailiff Dick Lamb have been added to the force to assist with law enforcement during the week.

Fire Chief Wolfe announced five fire hydrants had been purchased. He informed council that he wanted to initiate a systematic plan to replace all the old hydrants in the city.

City Solicitor O. Charles Hosterman gave a brief report on the activities of his office during the year. He pointed out that his post was basically two jobs, one of prosecution and one of legislation.

In addition to the many ordinances that he has drafted for council, Hosterman spends each Thursday in Municipal Court prosecuting cases which are contested.

Hosterman is also representing the city in two lawsuits — Callahan vs Circleville, a $560,000 accident suit, and Friley vs Circleville, in which case the plaintiff is asking that the alley behind the Herald be kept open.

Hosterman told council that he meets "some of the orneriest attorneys" in court.

Hosterman asked council to take steps to remodel the courtroom so that facilities for trial by jury could be provided. He also strongly recommended that city ordinances be recodified. He emphasized this last was a very important action that should be taken.

A communication from Durward Dowden was read. Dowden presented a claim for $8,651.71 on the estate of the late Grace Marvene Howard. She left her estate to Berger Hospital. Dowden said the claim was for services rendered the deceased.

A petition signed by 116 persons objecting to Melvin Leasure being "forced" to move a trailer belonging to his son Gary who is in the service, was read by Council Clerk Robert Shadley.

Council president Joseph Bell said that Melvin was in violation of the city's zoning ordinances. He further stated that Leasure had been told 30 days before parking the trailer on the lot that he would be in violation if he did so.

In spite of this knowledge, Leasure moved the trailer onto the lot. He also has an illegal sewer tap, for which he cannot be accessed. Bell said that the planning and zoning commission had made arrangements for Leasure to store the trailer at Elsea Inc. for a fee of $5 a month, but that he had not moved it there.

Leasure is presently undergoing service training in the United States. The Herald two weeks ago mistakenly said he was serving in Vietnam. Bell said there are other trailers illegally parked in the city and that action will be taken to have them removed.

A letter from the state department of health concerning the renewal of the Circleville sewage discharge permit was read. The permit will be renewed for only six months. The city must improve the quality of treatment of sewer waste by Jan. 1, 1972.

The mayor recommended that to eliminate accident's that council enact safety regulations relating to construction workshops and factories.

Heart Transplant Patient Succumbs

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — A 19-year-old girl died Tuesday night, 15 hours after receiving the heart of a 38-year-old man in the world's 59th heart transplant operation.

It was the second such operation in Argentina. Hospital spokesmen said complications arising from blood coagulation prevented the recovery of Maria Esther Bernardez.

She received the heart of Julian Cuello, who had died of a stroke, doctors said.

Argentina's first heart transplant patient, Antonio Serrano, died June 4, four days after surgery. To date, 28 heart recipients are still alive.

Van Cleaf's Walking Stick Given To Local Society

Howard Martin, Bexley, O., presented the Pickaway County Historical Society with an important addition to the county's history in the form of a silver-headed, engraved walking stick of the Honorable Aaron Van Cleaf, former publisher of the Circleville Democrat and Watchman Newspaper.

The walking stick is a most important gift. It is octagon in shape, of oak, and capped with a silver head, engraved on top "A. R. Vancleaf — 1869." On the octagon sides of the silver top are engraved "A relic of Tennant Parsonage on Monmouth Battle Field — Built 1700 — Taken Down 1859."

Not only was the Honorable A. R. Vancleaf editor and publisher of the local newspaper, but also he was an eminent historian, having edited the history of Pickaway County and representative citizens. He was born at Arneytown, Burlington County, New Jersey, March 20, 1838, the son of Lewis and Ann (Reeves) Van Cleaf, who, when he was four years old, removed to near Freehold, Monmouth County, New Jersey. The Van Cleaf's were in a number of companies of the New Jersey troops during the Revolutionary War.

In November 1863, he purchased the Circleville Democrat, later named the Circleville Democrat and Watchman. He served as State Representative and State Senator from Franklin and Pickaway Counties. On May 15, 1860, Van Cleaf was married to Emma L. Swift, daughter of Daniel and Lavinia (Clark) Swift of Fulton house, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

Howard Martin, donor, is the son of Emmett O. Martin, who lived in Circleville and was the son of George Martin, brother

Miss Laura Martin, who had lived with the Van Cleaf family for many years and who was the recipient of the house and contents at 128 W. Union St.

In addition to the walking stick, which is of outstanding historical value, numerous other items were donated to the Society. These items will become a part of the various future displays to be made at the museum.

Sentence Former Court Clerk

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Helen S. Miller, 68, former Butler County Area Court 1 clerk, was placed on probation for five years Tuesday on her earlier conviction of embezzling nearly $5,500 in court funds and was ordered to make restitution.

Sentencing was handed down by Common Pleas Judge Fred B. Cramer.

She was dismissed from her post Feb. 9, 1966, shortly after an audit revealed the shortage of $5,492 in funds due the county, state and townships from fines, and funds for trusteeships held by the court.

Some Good Seen In Chicago School Boycott By Negroes

CHICAGO (AP) — Most Chicago school officials have reacted with alarm to Negro student agitation which has thrown many of the city's high schools into turmoil, but two officials see cause for encouragement.

Some 5,000 Negro high school students stayed away from classes Tuesday in continuing protests to dramatize their demands for more representation, more Negro teachers and administrators and more Negro studies. Seventeen persons were arrested.

A boycott Monday kept almost half the city's Negro enrollment of 62,000 out of school.

The demonstrations illustrate "a healthy attitude despite the fact that here and there some excesses are engaged in," Warren Bacon, a Negro member of the Board of Education, has said.

"We should be pleased that black students are really becoming concerned about their education and that their interest is awakened to the relevance of schools to their lives," he added.

Said Joseph Rosen, district superintendent for a West Side area in which some of the troubled schools are situated: "I think it is a disturbing phenomenon for those in the middle of it, but a beautiful phenomenon for the people who are growing."

Some of the alarm stems from the fact that widespread absences could play havoc with the school board's budget. State aid is based on attendance records.

There were 28,000 absences in Monday's boycott and militant leaders have threatened to make that a weekly occurrence.

"From now on until our demands are met, every Monday will be black Monday, every Monday will be a black holiday," Victor Adams, a protest leader, said at a rally preceding the boycott.

Restrict Traffic On River Bridge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Highway Department has ordered a restriction on the movement of traffic over a second Ohio River bridge.

Spacing of 45 feet between vehicles will be required on the Fort Steuben Bridge which carries U.S. 22 across the river between Steubenville and Weirton, W.Va.

Earlier, a 45-foot interval was ordered on the U.S. 30 bridge at East Liverpool.

Close scrutiny on the Ohio River bridges follows the collapse of the Silver Bridge near Gallipolis last December with the loss of 46 lives.

Pay Raise OK, Judge Decides

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A Mahoning County Common Pleas Court Judge Tuesday ruled the Youngstown Board of Education acted legally when it granted teachers pay raises without having the money in hand.

Judge Forrest J. Cavalier said the board acted in a legal manner July 1 and Sept. 2 when it adopted resolutions restoring "quality education" in the schools and granting pay increases and other benefits to the teachers.

to repair traffic lights. Also approved was the transfer of $125 to the service department for clerk hire.

A total of $1,050 was appropriated to Municipal Court to pay for legal forms and to pay acting judges.

OF that total, $500 was transferred with the already established budget of the court and $550 was transferred from the general fund.

Mrs. Helen Smith, 121 E. Union St., asked council to abandon a small strip of land measuring 11 feet by 128 feet which is adjacent to a building she owns at the intersection of Main and Scioto Streets.

The land in question is on the southeast corner of the intersection. At present it is a small grassed area. At one time when Mader's Funeral Home was located in the building, a goldfish pond was maintained there.

Chief of Police Robert Temple recommended that council reject a request for approval of a carryout liquor license for Palm Salvage.

Temple said that four families in the area had objected on the grounds that the owner already operated one carry-out on East Main St. Those objecting were Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mills, Rosemary Dunkle and Herbert Southward.

Council will meet in an adjourned session 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday to act on the request for a liquor permit.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Councilmen hoped to hold a comparatively short session Tuesday, but because of discussion and communications to council, it lasted well over two hours.

Councilman Boyd Horn wanted to know if Chief Barnard Wolfe would permit residents to burn their leaves. The Chief quickly explained that he had no intention of permitting the burning of leaves. He noted the city's new leaf vacuum was just about ready for action.

The new machine can cover the city in about a week's time, council was told.

Police Chief Robert Temple announced that his department was ready for the big Pumpkin Show. Sgt. Harris of Chillicothe and Municipal Court Bailiff Dick Lamb have been added to the force to assist with law enforcement during the week.

Fire Chief Wolfe announced five fire hydrants had been purchased. He informed council that he wanted to initiate a systematic plan to replace all the old hydrants in the city.

Van Cleaf's Walking Stick Given To Local Society

Howard Martin, Bexley, O., presented the Pickaway County Historical Society with an important addition to the county's history in the form of a silver-headed, engraved walking stick of the Honorable Aaron Van Cleaf, former publisher of the Circleville Democrat and Watchman newspaper.

Sen. Wayne Morse Faces Tough Re-Election Battle

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP) — Wayne Morse is up for re-election to the U.S. Senate and he is the issue, as he has always been.

This stormy senate figure has been told every six years for a quarter of a century that in Oregon he is the people's choice.

It could be different this time. Morse is opposed by Republican Robert Packwood, a Portland lawyer, three-term member of the Oregon legislature and an amazingly able organizer of political campaigns.

At 36 Packwood is only a little more than half Morse's age.

He was Portland's Junior First Citizen in 1967, organized an annual Republican conference of young liberals that the old pros found it necessary to join, and recruited and trained legislative candidates whose victories switched the state legislature from Democratic to Republican.

He is articulate, personable and generally moderate in his views.

In outlining the campaign issues he has alienated almost no one: riots must not be tolerated but conditions that cause them must be treated; the United States must end the Vietnam war with honor, demanding land reform and an end to governmental corruption as a condition of continued military presence there.

"I tell myself the young fellow can't beat the old pro," says an Eastern Oregon newspaperman. And one from Southern Oregon agrees, adding that "they all say 'Morse is a stubborn old man but-', and then they add they'll vote for him because he helped them on some local matter or they want at least one maverick in the Senate or for some other reason."
